TEACHERS EXAMINATION.
The next teachers examination will be held at Dahlonega on last Saturday in May, 1897. The questions will be taken from the following books: Page's Theory and Practice of Teaching, White's School Management, Parker's Talks on Teaching and Outlines of Methods, the same that was used last year. Arrangements for holding the Institute have not yet been completed.

MONTHLY SUFFERING.

Thousands of women are troubled at monthly intervals with pains in the head, back, breasts, shoulders, sides, hips and limbs. But they need not suffer.

These pains are symptoms of dangerous derangements that can be corrected. The menstrual function should operate painlessly.

McLEERY'S Wine of Cardui makes menstruation painless, and regular. It puts the delicate menstrual organs in condition to do their work properly. And that stops all this pain. Why will any woman suffer month after month when Wine of Cardui will relieve her? It costs $1.00 at the drug store. Why don't you get a bottle to-day?

For advice, in cases requiring special directions, address, giving symptoms, "The Ladies' Advisory Department," The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

Mrs. ROZENA LEWIS,

"I was troubled at monthly intervals with terrible pains in my head and back, and have been entirely relieved by Wine of Cardui."

Why Do We Keep It Up.

Every year the South pays tribute to the North and West in many ways.

The East especially gathers a golden harvest annually from this fair region, and our people plod steadily along in the old ruts content to give up this yearly drain seemingly without a thought of this ruinous business policy.

Millions go out of the South every season on our crop expenses for borrowed money, and the bill for live stock which we contract yearly is simply enormous. We buy meat, corn, hay and other farm products from the West, which could be raised at home just as well, and this money stay at home with our people. There is no excuse or justification on earth for such a policy by our people.

But the big item of insurance is staggering. The South sends her millions yearly to the East for fire, fire and accident insurance, and the difference between the amounts paid insurance companies by our people for protection and the sum they receive in return on losses, is a fair example of the gigantic scale on which our section is fleecing itself every year. The profits of labor and enterprise are absorbed in this margin, and we are left nothing but the evidences of their prosperity for our consolation.

Take the one item alone of life insurance. The reports of insurance commissioners for the past five years in the eastern states show that the state of Alabama paid out in premiums $4,908,757, and received during the same period on death claims $1,897,414, leaving a balance against the state of $3,029,343.

Georgia paid out $10,709,315, and received in death claims, $3,686,976, leaving a balance of $7,022,339.

South Carolina paid in premiums $3,906,273, and received in death losses, $1,593,005, leaving a balance of $2,313,268.

Tennessee paid out $6,861,895 and received $3,933,594 in losses, leaving a balance against the state of $3,928,301.

The year 1895 alone left Georgia in the lurch $1,546,755 for life insurance. We paid to companies $2,435,993, and in return received $889,238.

This money should remain with our people. We need it here. No wonder the North and East are far richer than the South. This margin in their favor reduces the money in circulation here just that much, and every time we sell a state or municipal bond we go to those sections for a buyer.

They take the money we pay them on insurance, turn round and loan it back to us, and we pay from 8 to 12 per cent, interest for the privilege of making these handsome donations.

How long will our people continue such a suicidal business policy? Will we never learn anything from experience? Why is it that our people had rather patronize a foreign corporation or business enterprise than a home industry or business undertaking? Why?

On Oath.
Attorney—Let me ask you, sir, how many secret societies you belong to?

Witness—What has that to do with the case?

Attorney—Never mind what I insist on knowing.
Witness—Do I have to answer that question, your honor?

Running a Newspaper How It Is Done.

It takes money to run a newspaper.—St. John News.

What an exaggeration! What a whopper! It has been disproved a thousand times! It is a clear case of airy fancy. It doesn't take money to run a newspaper. It can be run without money. It is not a business venture. It is a charitable institution, a begging concern, a highway robber. A newspaper is a child of the air; the creature of a dream. It can go on and on and on, when any other concern would be in the hands of a receiver and wound up with cobwebs in the windows.

It takes wind to run a newspaper; it takes gall to run a newspaper. It takes a scintillating, acrobatic imagination and a half-dozen white shirts and a railroad pass to run a newspaper. But money—heavens to Betsy and six hands round, who ever needed money in conducting a newspaper! Kind words are the medium of exchange that do the business of the editor—kind words and church social tickets. When you see an editor with money watch him. He'll be paying his bills and disgracing his profession.

Never give money to an editor. Make him trade it out. He likes to swap.

Then when you die after having stood around for years and sneered at the editor and his little jim crow paper, be sure to have your wife to send in after three extra copies by one of your weeping children, and when she reads the generous and touching notice about you, forewarn her to neglect to send the editor ten cents. It would over-whelm him. Money is a corrupting thing. The editor knows it and what he wants is your heartfelt thanks. He can thank the printers and they can thank their grocers.

Take your job work to the job offices, (or if he is a country printer send it to the city and save five cents—the railroads are accommodating and will charge you nothing for transportation), and then come and ask for half rates for the church notices. Get your lodge letter heads and stationery printed out of town, and then flood the editor with beautiful thoughts in resolutions of respect and cards of thanks. They make such spicy reading when you pick it up filled with these glowing and vivid mortuary articles, you are so proud of your little local paper!

But money—Scorn the filthy thing. Don't let the pure innocent editor know anything about it. Keep that for sordid trades people who charge for their wares. The editor gives his bounty away. The Lord loves a cheerful giver. He'll take care of the editor. Don't worry about the editor. He has a charter from the State to act as door mat for the community. He will get the paper out somehow, and stand up for the town and whoop it up for you when you run for office, and lie about your pigeon-toed daughter's tackey wedding and blow about your big-footed son's $4 a week job, and weep over your shriveled soul when it is released from your grasping body, and smile at your giddy wife's second marriage. Don't worry about the editor; he'll get on. The Lord knows how—but somehow.—ROME TRIBUNE.

Rev. N. M. Woods, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church Memphis, Tenn., recently denounced the Unitarians as dangerous and insidious enemies to Christianity.

Churchgoing in Iceland.

Jessie Ackerman, in her articles on "Three Women in Iceland," in The Woman's Home Companion, tells how she attended a country church in the northern part of the island.

"The Sabbath day was full of interest, for we had not attended service in the rural districts. In the early morning we betook ourselves to the front of the house to watch the country folk assemble. In the distance we saw them fording the river in a long line, and in another direction men, women and children rode slowly over the mountains down to the farm. What the Sabbath day means to these people few can realize. Some of them never see a face besides those of the members of the family from one church day until the other. What wonder, then, that they began to assemble fully two hours before church time? A peculiar form of salutation prevails outside of the cities. With this we had not yet been made familiar, and our astonishment can well be imagined when we saw the men dismount, embrace and kiss each other. I learned later that this is the usual form of salutation among men in the inland districts.

"The hour of service arrived, and, in company with the preacher, who wore a high silk hat, a loose, flowing gown buttoned down chin to hem and a great white Elizabethan ruffa around his neck, we entered the church. From the back seat we had full view of the congregation, and, not being familiar with the language, the time was passed in meditation on the situation.

"In the pulpit the pastor was assisted into a long white robe, which tell over the black one, and down his back hung a large surplice of bright velvet, upon which a golden cross was wrought. On the altar two great candles about a yard long and three inches thick shed a dim light. These were the especial charge of an official who gave out the hymns and between times snuffed the candles with an old time pair of snuffers. After church the worshippers dispersed, and many of them did not reach their homes until night."

Calve Is Superstitious.

One Saturday afternoon, just after Mne. Calve had sung the jewel song in "Faust"—and divinely she brought out the dramatic value as well as the musical beauty of it—Mlle. Bauermeister, as Martha, in squeezing between Mne. Calve and the table on which the jewel casket lay, brushed off the mirror. It fell with a crash to the floor, and Marguerite and Martha's faces fell instantly. Calve ran at once and picked up the mirror. Closely she examined it to see if it were cracked, and her face broke into a radiant smile when she discovered that the mirror was intact.

She pressed the bit of glass joyfully to her bosom and then replaced it on the table. Equard de Reszke, who was also on the stage, and his fair associates, some spectators avert, devoutly crossed themselves, moreover, when the mirror fell. Nothing unluckier than to smash a mirror is known to the superstitious—and operative folk believe in every omen and portent under the sun.—Chicago Chronicle.

Spain has ordered of a Newcastle firm the largest floating dock yet made. It is to be stationed at Olongo, in the Paillipine Islands. The length is 450 feet, the width 117 feet and the depth 38 and a half feet; it must lift 12,000 tons.

Where Lynch Found His Mill.

Away up in the Adirondacks, is the town of Minerva, a few years ago, lived a man by the name of Daniel Lynch. Mr. Lynch lived back in the lumber district and on the banks of a nice little stream. Anxious to make money and turn his lumber into cash, he built a mill. It was rather queerly constructed affair, for, instead of a frame, he used as corner posts for his building four trees. Dan began the manufacture of lumber and had it piled up in large quantities all around. Buyers came from all parts of the country to look at his stock, intending to buy, but all went away dissatisfied, for the boards were uneven and worthless. After trying in vain to get a few dollars out of his venture he abandoned the place and moved into town.

Years passed, and one day Dan thought he would visit the scenes of his unfortunate speculations, but on his arrival at the spot was surprised to find that his mill had gone. There in the head of the stream was the old flame and wheels, but no building. As he stood gazing in wonder on what was left of his old establishment something—perhaps a little bird—attracted his attention up in one of the trees, and imagine his surprise on looking up, for about 12 feet in the air above him was his mill. In his absence the four trees that he had used as corner posts had grown and taken the mill up toward heaven.—Utica Press.

Emerson says: "No matter what your work is, let it be yours; no matter if you are a thinker or preacher; blacksmith or president, let what you are doing be organic; let it be in your bones, and you open the door by which the affluence of heaven and earth shall stream into you. God will not have his work made manifest by cowards a man is relieved and gay when he has put his heart into his work and done his best; but what he has said or done otherwise shall give him no peace."

It is difficult to teach an old dog new tricks. John Bull tried to "do" us in the apparently unimportant treaty defining a portion of the boundary line between Alaska and Canada, but was found out in time to prevent ratification of the treaty.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, GA., MAY 7, 1897.
Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga. P. O.
as Second Class Matter.

Col. Buck was tendered a grand reception by the republicans before he departed the other day.

Two Jonesboro men died last Monday as the result of a Saturday night spree on liquor made from a receipt recently purchased from a Fayette county man. Others are sick and will likely die.

It now looks as if the next gubernatorial contest would be practically settled before the present year is out, Fleming G. duBignon, of Savannah, seems to be the choice of nearly every class.—Darien Gazette.

The biggest man in the United States is Phillip S. Rucker, of Noble county, Oklahoma. He weighs 495 pounds, stripped. Rucker was born in Ottumwa county, Iowa, and is 37 years of age, and not quite six feet tall.

The New York World has compiled a table showing that the pension payments during the last ten years were $1,256,630,748. This colossal amount was $719,648,167 in excess of the payment for the preceding ten years, 1876 to 1886.

The physicians of Atlanta performed a marvelous operation on little Emily Woodroof of that city last week. She was eleven years old and the brain cavity, which was too small was cut in the shape of a V so as to allow the child's brains to grow.

A western paper tells of a fellow who, every time he gets on a spree insists on paying a year's subscription to his town paper. He has all ready paid to January 1, 1947. An effort should be made to find out the brand of whiskey the fellow uses that it may be generally put on the market.

The largest steamship ever constructed is now being built at Belfast, Ireland. She is to be 705 feet long, 50 feet deep and 8 feet beam. Her combined motive power will reach the enormous aggregate of 45,000 horse-power. She is to be called the Oceanic, and will be launched next January.

That sort of religion that doesn't make a fellow anxious to pay his debts, even when he has to work hard to do it, isn't worth picking up in the road. Prayers for one's creditors are commendable, but they do not constitute a legal tender for debt, either in this world or the world to come, remarks the Rochelle New Era.

One of the largest illicit distilleries on record has just been discovered in a suburb of New York city. The plant, when running on full time, cheated the government of $500 a day by avoiding the payment of taxes on its products. None of the moonshiners were arrested, although five men were seen in the premises last week.

A huge air ship was seen passing over Fitzgerald last Tuesday morning, about daybreak. It appeared to be about one-quarter of a mile above the earth. The outline and lights were plainly visible. The aerial monster was traveling at a terrific rate of speed, and, judging from the time of its appearance until it was out of sight, must have been flying at the rate of one hundred miles an hour.

We notice where a man was granted a divorce in Atlanta last week on account of a music teacher winning his wife's affections by the music of a mandolin. He would carry her to entertainments, looking her husband out of the house and visit her while the husband was from home working hard to support her and dressing her up in style, which is often the case. The husband should have perforated the music teachers skin with a oad of shot and sent his wife back to her parents where she should have been compelled to make music on a spinning wheel and wore homespun dresses until she learned to behave herself.

A Much-to-be-Pitied Husband.

Ed. NUGGET:— I ask you to stop my paper at once. I do not want another number to come to my house. Ever since my wife read the NUGGET last week, I've had no peace of mind. When she read that peace about divorce, where you say: "There will be something more than a divorce happen in Dahlonega, if a certain married man does not quit trying to gain the affections of a married lady," she threw the paper down and began to cry and take on, and tell me that she knew it would come to this before long, and that I was surely the man spoken of. I asked her if my name was called in the piece. She said that made no difference what ever. I told her it did because there was more than a hundred married men in Dahlonega, and any of them more likely to be the man than myself. I told her she must be mistaken in the man. But I could not pacify her, and she still cries at times, and goes on, and calls me names, and that she will never more confidence me again; that when she let up on me more than a year ago, about what a certain bailiff had told her, I promised to keep out of town, especially at night-time. This I have done honestly and still she aint happy. While you were printing that piece you should have mentioned the party that would act that way. It might have been bad on that one man, but you have left the door wide open for more than a hundred men to be abused by their wives. In my case I know it's a lie, for after the trouble with my wife, still alluded to, I have conducted myself abstemiously in every particular. In order that there might not be a shadow of any sort come between one and her I withdrew from the Knights of Labor, and the Knights of Honor, and was suspended from the Masons and the Odd Fellows. In fact I abandoned every society that would carry me from home at night. I allowed my name to stay on the church books, because it was well known that my health was too poorly to attend night meetings. The fears of women have well-nigh killed every charitable society in Dahlonega. I am told that the good old Masons, who are sworn to do right in the matter, have no married members to attend their meetings from the country now, unless their wives are dead, or nearly so.

The women have all the doctors in town on their side, and so well trained are the doctors that in every piece of advice they give to the men folks, you will hear them add: "And be sure and keep out of the night air." If it's only a slight bruise or burn, you will hear them say: "Don't go out at night." If things do not improve I will begin to think that marriage is a failure. Heaven knows I want peace in the family. But how can I, so long as the doctors and editors are doing all they can to foment strife?

For months I've staid at home, refusing to be introduced to any more people, and at the very time your paper is alluding to I was going in a great hurry to borrow an axe from old man Franklin or his son John. I reached home before dark, and I wish I may die, if I ever saw a woman the whole time I was gone. My wife knows that, or thinks she does, but because it was in a paper she is going to make a great deal out of it, and rake up things that I thought she had forgot, or at least she said she had forgot.

I hope it will all blow over when Judge Murray gets back. He promised me before he left for Tennessee a few days ago, that on his return he would give me a job at one of his mines, and put me on the "day shift." If he does I will take my wife along with me every day, just to satisfy her mind that there is nothing wrong about me, and that the paper must have told a lie if it meant me. But do stop the NUGGET, as to its coming to me. I am tired of its foolishness.

TORRAS RANKINS.

The South Doing Best.

Slavery limited the South to one vocation, agriculture and the war and emancipation impoverished the planters of that section. With the close of the war the South was bankrupt, its credit destroyed, its plantations fenceless, often without buildings, and invariably without a working force. Slavery had rendered all other form of industrial development in the South impossible and the war instigated by slavery not only wiped out slavery but ruined the simple industry to which slavery had limited the country.

The war did not destroy any of the great national wealth of this section, however and with slavery out of the way, it became possible to open the coal mines of the South, establish blast furnaces to manufacture Southern ore into pigiron, build factories to manufacture Southern cotton and to turn the South's immense forests of valuable timber into merchantable lumber. There were knotty social, political and economic problems to be solved, requiring some time, of course, but these are in gradual process of solution, and it has come to pass that within thirty years of the close of the war, the South has not only been recognized as the most inviting field for the investment of capital in industrial development, but that in a period of great industrial depression it is the one section that is making progress all the time.

Two statistical reports out of many are worth quoting in proof of this fact. The production of pigiron for 1896 in the United States was 8,623,127 tons, a decrease of 823,181 tons from the year 1895. Of this amount the South, in which there was scarcely a blast furnace at the close of the war, produced 1,839,451 tons, an increase of 132,000 over 1895. The whole country showed a heavy decline in pig iron production for the year but the South made a distinct gain. The bank clearings tell the same story. The clearings of the second week in January for the whole South, as compared with the corresponding week one year ago, show a gain of 6 per cent, while the Middle States show a decrease 2 1/2, the Middle Western a decrease of nearly 11 1/2 and the Pacific a decrease of 31.3 per cent. Only New England of the entire North showed any increase at all, and its increase was less than that of the South.

In spite of past misfortunes and mistakes the great natural wealth of the South which was left untouched during slavery days in forcing that section to the front as the one place that prospers in bad times as well as in good. These figures are well worth the careful consideration of Northern capitalists seeking new investments.—Philadelphia Times.

When a post master sees a mark under a subscribers name on the NUGGET he will know that he has not been getting his paper regular, and that especial attention is directed to the matter.

Mining Notes.

Some Colored experts have been looking at the mines in the vicinity of Auraria.

Bill Davis and John Perry have struck a very rich vein in a dry hollow near the Wells mine in Auraria district.

The large reservoir at the Hand is nearly completed, and when finished will enable them to work the new bed of ore more successful.

Mr. Jake Loggins, who is engaged with Mr. Huff in working the Cahoon mine, was up Tuesday and reported last months clean up very satisfactory.

Tom Conner, who resided in the lower part of the county has moved near Boling's Bridge to superintend the construction of a dredge boat, while his partner, Mr. Jaquish, will look after the Wells mine.

Work will commence on Cane Creek ditch in a few days and it will be cleaned out so as to let the water run a mile nearer this way to the Black Mountain road. Mr. John Walden will have charge of the work.

Mr. J. B. Clements, an experienced miner of Lumpkin county, will visit Nashville in a few days and show the visitors at the exposition how gold is panned, as well as to explain how the mines are worked in this county.

Two coal cars and the rails for the tunnels at the Preacher have been received and the tracks are being laid down and will soon be ready for use, which will enable the owners to push the work forward more rapidly.

Mr. Samuel Smith, who has been engaged in planting his corn for several days, resumed work at his mine below the Barlow mill this in the bed of the creek. He showed us one day last week another lot of nuggets—21 in number—taken from this mine.

Everything is moving along at the Tablokena mine in a business like manner. Mr. Geo. W. Struman, a gentleman of many years experience in mining, has a good force of hands engaged in driving tunnels, opening cuts, etc., exposing many rich veins on this valuable property.

Capt. Ingersoll made a general clean up this week and we are satisfied from his appearance Monday evening last while coming from the laboratory that the months work was a good one, for the man in which he carried a large leather bag which contained the gold proved that it was very heavy.

The Constitution of last Sunday contained an interesting account of the various gold mines about Dahlonega from the pen of a reporter of that paper who had never been here before. He had heard much about the valuable gold mines of this section and came to see if the reports were not exaggerated.

A gentleman informed us Wednesday that Mr. O. C. Scupin, superintendent of the Botz mine near Auraria, told him that the owner was offered one hundred thousand dollars for the mine, but the gentleman wouldn't take it. An addition of twenty-four feet is being added to the superintendents dwelling which shows that they mean business.

The pump has been running both day and night at the Lockhart Mine since the first of last week getting the water out of the large shaft which is sixty-five feet deep below water level and will take most of this week to complete the work. The pump throws about ten inches of water and fills a large reservoir, which is used for mining purposes, every twelve hours. Several tunnels run out from the bottom of this shaft to various valuable veins, none of which have been molested on account of the water for more than six months. The mill is kept running on good ore taken from an open cut. Messrs. Crisson and Weaver have the mine leased and intend thoroughly how to separate the gold from the rock so as to make it pay.

Ex-Vice President Stevenson and the party of gentlemen who were here last week looking at our mines, after spending one day left for Nashville on Friday. Among the mines visited while here were some belonging to the Appalachian Gold Mining Company, a corporation with $25,000,000 capital stock. Mr. Stevenson has no financial interest in this section himself, but came down with friends to look into the reports which they had heard. Speaking of what he had seen, he stated that the Dahlonega field appeared to him to be immensely rich in gold. He had never seen a gold belt before which resembled this one and it was a new proposition to him, but he was deeply impressed by it. He had seen the great mine of the Alaska Treadwell Company in Alaska, where an ore of much lower grade than the Georgia ore is worked at a handsome profit, with expenses far heavier than in Georgia.

LUMPKIN SHERIFF'S SALES.
Georgia, Lumpkin County:
Will be sold before the court house door in Dahlonega, Lumpkin county, Ga., on the first Tuesday in June, 1897, within the legal hours of sale, the following property, to-wit:
One-half on the boundary line of lot of land No. 1064 in the 12th district and 1st section of said county beginning at the northwest corner of town lot recently sold to Harve Free, and running west 288 feet, thence south 104 feet, thence east 288 feet, thence north 104 feet and adjoining the north half of said lot sold to said "ree, and being the premises conveyed by deed from John H. Jenkins to Julia J. Jenkins on Nov. 18, 1895, which deed is of record in Clerk's office of the Superior Court of said county book "A" 1, page 495. Levied on as the property of said Julia J. Jenkins by virtue of and to satisfy a $1 issued from the Justices Court of the 87th district, G. M., of said county in favor of John H. Jenkins vs. Julia J. Jenkins. Property pointed out by plaintiff. Levy made and returned to me by J. C. Williams, L. C. May 5, 1897.

Also at the same time and place one acre of land more or less of lot of land No. 823 in the 12th district and 1st section of said county with note and bounds as follows: Beginning at, or near a white oak tree on the west side of lot of land No. 836 in the 12th district and 1st section of said county near the foot of the shoal on the branch, thence running north 53 yards on the original line between said lots of and, thence west 70 yards, thence south 70 yards, thence east 70 yards to original line, thence south on said original line 35 yards to the beginning point, and also the right of way for a road 18 feet wide running through said lot 823 from said shoal to the line on W. H. Cook's land near the graye yard and running near the house where Hannah Corn formerly lived, being the same acre of land and right of road which were heretofore conveyed to A. F. Stow, by the heirs at law of L. D. Davis, deceased. Written notice of this levy given Raleigh Hall tenant in possession of said premises. Levy made and returned to me by J. C. Williams, L. C. May 5, 1897.

Also at the same time and place the undivided one-third interest in and to lots of land Nos. 811 and 812 in the 6th district and 1st section of said county. Levied on as the property of Ephram Crane to satisfy a $11 issued from the Justices Court of the 122nd district, G. M., of said county in favor of W. J. Burt vs. said Ephram Crane. Levy made and returned to me by K. C. Satterfield, L. C. May 5, 1897.
J. M. BROOKSHIR, Sheriff.

Notice to Bridge Contractors.

Sealed bids will be received by me at my office in the court house in Dahlonega, Ga., until 2 p. m. on the 22nd day of May 1897, at which time and place said bids will be opened in the presence of all bidders who are present, for the building of two pillars—one at each end of the bridge known as the Iron Bridge across the Chatetee River at New Bridge in Lump in county, Ga. Said pillars to be constructed of stone or iron and each pillar to be of the following dimensions: 30 feet high at base and 16 feet wide at top, 10 feet thick at base and 4 feet thick at top and 21 feet high from bed of river. Also at the same place until the same time and in the same manner will be received bids for the repairing and replacing of the west span of said bridge. Said span is 128 feet long and to be of iron and similar in every way to that portion of this span which is now standing. The successful bidder will be required to replace said span furnishing all new material (being about one fourth) necessary for the repairing same.

Trustee in the old pillar to be used in building the new ones and the deficiency can be supplied by quarrying same upon the ground at the expense of contractor. Payment to be made when work is completed and accepted by me. Full specifications and plans of work to be seen of file in my office. Good and sufficient bond will be required of the successful bidder as required by law. The right to reject any and all bids reserved. This April 22, 1897.

W. H. C. TAYLOR, Ordinary of Lumpkin County, Ga.

THE NUGGET,

DAHLONEGA, GA., MAY 7, 1897.

See sheriff's sales elsewhere in this paper.

Mrs. Robt. Meaders is on a visit to Swainsboro.

Mr. Marion Chester, who was injured by the falling of a limb some days ago, has recovered so as to be out.

Anderson & Jones have opened out a new store at Crumby's mills in Wahoo district, Mr. Frank Jones being in charge.

W. M. Ash, while over in Union county Saturday was in a snow storm. He said the Brass Town Ball Mountain was perfectly white.

There was no meeting of the city council last Monday for the lack of a quorum. It will meet to night and transact such business as may come before it.

Rev. Mr. Hunnicut, of Dahlonega, is now attending the ministers meeting at Demorest. He will assist in carrying on a protracted meeting at that place for some days.

Several married men have asked us since last week to give them a written notice that it was not them referred to in the Nugget, so they could show it to their wives and restore peace in the family.

We are requested to state that Mr. C. Will Fisher, the well known artist of Demorest, will be here about the middle of this month, where he will remain for awhile for the purpose of taking pictures.

The latch string hangs on the outside of the office door every day in the week, except Thursday afternoon, at which time we are engaged in making up our mails and too busy to entertain visitors.

Many of our citizens have been away from home during the past week. Col. Boyd went to Hiwassee, Col. Charters to Blairsville, Col. Price to Gainesville, Capt. Hall to Atlanta, Mr. O. H. Hall to Atlanta.

It is not often you hear of a negro that doesn't know the taste of liquor and but few white people. Stewart Green, aged about 35, residing near Dahlonega never touched a drop in his life. If every one were as law abiding as Stewart so, sheriffs and lawyers would all perish out.

Brother McNeley, of the Lawrenceville News, in company with Col. H. H. Dean, of Gainesville, visited our city last Friday on business. Mr. McNeley claimed that Capt. H. D. Ingersoll was due him a commission of one thousand dollars on the sale of the Capps property. But Capt. Ingersoll thought differently and he didn't get it.

Mr. W. B. Fry and lady who left last Tuesday for the Black Hills, came up to Dahlonega Saturday and gave the parting hand shaking to their many acquaintances here. Mr. Fry moved to this county in the year 1891 and has many warm friends who regretted to see him and his good lady take their departure, all of whom wish them a safe journey.

Col. Baker is now keeping bachelors hall since his lady left for Swainsboro. While Mrs. Baker was at home it required a few drops of cold water in order to wake the Colonel so as to build a fire in the stove. Now he is up before day and is just as polite to the ladies as a sixteen year old boy at a camp meeting going to the spring.

It seems since the advance in the price of corn in this county that some persons have gone to stealing it thinking probably it is the cheapest. Mr. John Tate and John Simmons have both lost some. That stolen from John Tate will be of little value to the one getting it as they made a mistake and got some old weevil eaten corn. But if the parties are caught up with Judge Kinney will charge them a good price for it.

Several of our citizens attended church at Auraria last Sunday.

There is now but one prisoner in jail since young Hutson made bond.

The Rider store house recently vacated by L. W. Cochran is to rent.

Meal is being shipped from Floyd county and sold in Dahlonega cheaper than that purchased here.

Prof. Vickery and post master Givley are making some improvements about their premises in the way of new fencing.

The first day of May was cold which brought over coats in use again, and on Sunday night we had a frost which killed many vegetables.

Don't pull your hair and claw out your eye balls should you come across something in the Nugget that you don't like. Remember there is no law compelling you to take it.

The ordinary refuses to pay the sheriff a bill of $14 for bringing young Hutson from Fulton county jail to Dahlonega claiming that he was tendered a bond before making the trip.

The improvements on the Methodist Church adds much to the looks of the building, which is one of the oldest of the kind in this county, having been built near half a century ago.

L. W. Cochran, desiring to deal only in groceries offers his dry goods, shoes and hats at cost for either cash or barter. Those having sheep or cattle for sale should remember that he desires to purchase them.

It is very hard to run a newspaper to suit every one and we don't try it. Some people love to read something on the other fellow, but when the shoe fits them they squeal. Very often men come into the office puffed up like a wet cigar stump, causing us to hide until the fever leaves, for if we desired to fight it would not be to our interest, for we got injured during the war while a boy running from a parrot, and we believe the wise legislators will fix the law so as to allow us on the pension list yet.

The Auraria Singing Class, which has no equal in the county for good vocal music, will likely visit Silos Church on the third Sunday of this month. We can not start a tune nor play anything on an instrument, but we were always fond of good vocal music and will try to be on hand. We have often wondered, should we be fortunate enough to get conveyance in the golden chariot for that city not made with hands, what we would do with the harp with a thousand strings, spoken of by the ministers, was handed us to perform on for the benefit of the few who will be present.

For some time defendants in the Superior Court have been persuaded by their friends that it would be cheaper on the county and lighter on them if they would plead guilty, which they did. Then some meddlesome persons in our town, part of whom have and are frequently violating the law would slip to the Judge and tell him that they were bad fellows and ought to be dealt with severely. A juror is sworn to try a defendant according to the testimony. If a man was to slip up to the window and whisper that the defendant was a bad man and tell the jury that he ought to be dealt with severely, what would the Judge do should he find it out? He would fine him so heavy that he wouldn't be able to get his boots on any more. These meddlesome parties who approach the Judge should be treated likewise. We remember the case of Mrs. Stringer and Mary Wardsworth of a few years ago, both charged with selling liquor. Mrs. Stringer, who had many enemies, was fined $200 and cost (half afterwards being remitted) and given only a few days in which to pay the fine, and Mary, who no one cared to meddle, was fined only $10 who gave Prime Anderson, a negro, as security on her note, which was only recently settled.

Mr. Chairs, of Washington, D. C., spent a few days in the city last week looking at the mines.

For the first time in many years Dr. Howard is from home on a visit this week. He went to Demorest.

Miss Mand, daughter of Mr. J. C. Davis, arrived from the Indian Territory one day last week and will spend some time with relatives here.

Mr. John B. Atkinson left for his home in Kentucky last Friday, leaving Mr. Norwood in charge of his mining interests here during his absence.

Jim Anderson, of Frog Town district was bitten by a mad dog first of the week. It went mad in the house and bit him while endeavoring to get it out.

The public debate at the college which was to have taken place Friday evening had to be postponed until the night following on account of the inclement weather.

Dr. N. F. Howard, preached at Davis' Chapel last Sunday. After services the Doctor dined with Miss Manda Davis the only one living out of seven brothers and sisters.

Last Sunday Mr. Frank McDonald and Miss Anna Tolbert were united in the holy bonds of matrimony by Rev. A. F. Norton. They have our best wishes for their future welfare in life.

M. P. Jones, who recently deserted his wife in this county and afterwards made the Sheriff leg bond, has deeded all his property in Lumpkin to his children, leaving his wife to do the best she can for a living.

The Temperance Union met at the court house last Sunday night and the program was very interesting, which was listened to by a crowded house of both old and young. Eleven new names were added to the list.

Mr. J. B. Simmons, teacher of the Jay school in Davis' district, vacated the school this week before County School Commissioner Seabolt on account of an eye trouble. The patrons will now have to select another teacher for the summer term.

Some time ago Mrs. A. J. Avery, who resides a few miles from Dahlonega, had a severe spell of fever, causing all of her hair, which was gray, to come out. The new hair which is growing out now is perfectly black, notwithstanding the lady is about seventy-five years old.

On account of the last grand jury being pushed up to get through in three days, the prosecutor of Duncan was unable to get his most important witnesses here in time and the defendant was released with no bill against him. Now, this case will be put before the grand jury next court and the defendant will have to be rearrested if to be found. It's not best to be in too big a hurry every time.

Miss Mary Campbell, a dressmaker from Cleveland, will arrive in Dahlonega on the tenth for the purpose of doing all kinds of work in her line, and will locate at her brothers, Mr. W. G. Campbell at Mechanicsville. The lady comes well recommended as an elegant seamstress and those wishing any sewing done should give her a call. Her ad. will appear next week.

We have been asked several times since court what became of the case against Will Evans who was charged with bastardy. The case was not pressed by him paying the cost. Near two cars ago he was prosecuted for the offense and several months since the girl returned to Lumpkin for the purpose of prosecuting the one who had made her life miserable, but he came up with pleasant smiles and loving words making the girl believe that he loved her better than ever and would marry her, and in fact it was reported that they were married. But it was the same old story and now the girl has to cure for two children instead of one in the far West while he goes unmolested by paying the officers of court about $40.

Miss Randy Wilson died 22 ult., near Auraria.

Dahlonega was visited by a female peddler this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Leora Pitner, of Newnan, are up on a visit to relatives and friends.

Mr. Charlie Harris is up on a visit from Jackson county and will spend several weeks with the old folks at home.

"Buddy" Bryson, one of Lumpkin's bright young men, enlisted in the U. S. army some time since at Atlanta.

Mr. Geo. H. Craft, of Atlanta, was up this week looking at the plans and specifications of the iron bridge for the purpose of putting in a bid.

Ferdinand McDonakt has contracted to make the necessary repairs on the Castleberry bridge across Hightower river, near Auraria, for ten dollars.

A certain Dahlonega gentleman went out Sunday night to make a call on the fair sex and some of the boys who were on picket duty cast a number of rocks at the visitor who forgot his rheumatic pains causing him to pass off so swiftly that he left several pieces of his clothing hanging about on the bushes, which has scared every hawk out of the entire neighborhood since that time.

"Uncle" Allen Myers, a very old drayker who probably has not had a gun in his hand since he was a boy, borrowed one from Eula Jefferson the other day to kill a hawk. The old man went to town, purchased some ammunition and loaded the gun but when he went to put the cap on could find no tube. He went back to Eula to find out where to put the cap when he was told that it was a breech loader and needed no cap of that kind.

All the parties injured in the Yahoola buggy wreck a few days ago are getting along very well. The doctors have succeeded in healing up the gash on Wash Satterfield's head, and Dock Ervin has deeded about half an acre of red oak timber getting back to make an ooze for his crippled leg until he has got it as black as a man's hat, while West Walker was too tough to be injured. It is quite a curiosity to see a man with a black and white leg and Dock will probably join Barnums museum and be added to the many curiosities.

We are informed that the citizens in the lower end of the county are speaking of petitioning the ordinary to have a ford made to be used until the iron bridge can be replaced at New Bridge. They say that it can be done for fifteen or twenty dollars and are able to bear a portion of the expenses themselves. We believe it should be done. Auraria is next to the largest district in the county and her citizens have to help pay for other expenses of the county that do not benefit them a cent. Besides they have to go six miles out of their way to cross the river with a wagon and pay money in another county to keep up a toll bridge, saying nothing of the daily mail, the contractor of which has to cross the river twice a day the best he can.

Late Wednesday evening Moses Hamilton, colored, came across the square in John Hatfield's hack, driving the horses at break neck speed, and on out towards the cemetery and back in front of Dr. Howards where the team was stopped by a negro boy. A crowd soon gathered to find out the cause of the negro boys strange actions. When the boy was requested to vacate his seat by the marshal, he said that he "had given them because the Lord had given them to him" and many other silly things proving beyond a doubt that he is crazy. He was locked up and would have been tried for lunacy yesterday but the ordinary went up to his farm saying that it was not his job. The mayor has no right to try the negro for lunacy, and the ordinary won't leave his things in bad shape. He is in the custody of the sheriff now.

Some days ago a spider bit Pil Hamilton, col. The spider died.

Another new store will likely be opened out in Dahlonega in a short time.

Marshal Waters had the earliest beans raised in town—raised by the chickens.

The college boys are now engaged in putting the gilt edge on their speeches for Commencement.

Francis Seabolt, of this county was bound over last Friday by Com. Baker, charged with blockading.

The present city council intends to have plenty of light on the subject. Two more street lamps have been purchased. One to be put up at J. E. Moores residence and the other near Rice's shop.

Allen Stringer and W. A. Peck were arrested last Saturday by Sheriff Brooksher. The former is charged with assault and battery and the latter is charged with selling copper to merchant Littlefield for gold. Both made bond.

Clerk Moore and Sheriff Brooksher went over into Shoal Creek district last week and sold the Allen Stringer farm, which they recently purchased, to a Mr. Taylor, who has moved on it and will put up a saw mill and shingle machine on the property at once.

Col. J. W. H. Underwood, of Cleveland spent a couple of days in Dahlonega this week making abstracts of titles optioned to the English Syndicate. This land lies in Dawson county but was recorded in the clerk's office here before it was cut off in Dawson in about 1857.

The other night when a bon fire illuminated the public square in honor of the ex-vice President, Capt. Woodward, the senior editor of the Signal thought the whole town was burning up and ran out from home to the scene, hatless, coatless, with but one shoe on carrying in his hand a one gallon empty tin bucket.

Marshal Harrison went up into the edge of White county the other day to arrest Will Seabolt for illicit distilling, but when he got there he found that Seabolt had just got out of bed from a spell of fever and two of his children were down with the same disease. Will had been lying out for near a year and probably contracted the disease by being in the cold. He let him remain at home.

The Commencement of the N. G. A. College will soon be here which promises to be very interesting and largely attended. Some changes will be made in teachers by the time the fall session begins, as well as salaries. A new President will take charge of the college then with a salary of $1,800 instead of $1,200. An adjunct teacher will be added at a salary of $500 per annum, and but one lady teacher will be employed whose salary will be $800. The salaries of the rest of the professors will remain as they now are.

Some days ago Ashbury Beck went to Colquit Head's mill during the millers absence, so we learn, and put a toll dish full of Mr. Head's corn in the hopper just to have some fun, telling the owner about it when he arrived. It displeased Mr. Head and he carried the matter to the church in order to get satisfaction. The matter was to have been investigated last Saturday but we haven't heard the result. The mill is kind like the one Bale Moore used to tell about—takes a grain at a time and when it comes to a red one it plays with it awhile before crushing it, and the miller didn't wish to spend the day in trying to grind it out. The reason we are led to believe it is this kind a mill we are informed that Mr. Head tried to return it to the tax receiver, together with a rice mill, dam, cat fish and all for $20.

We are glad to learn that Brother Craig, of the Gainesville Eagle, has secured the legal advertising of White county. Harve and the writer used to go snipe hunting in the branches near Dahlonega quarter of a century ago and every time we see his name it brings fond recollections of our boyhood days, and the kind feeling we have for him will never cease until our light is blown out and we pass before the Great Judge for sentence to be passed upon us.

One night last week our friend Frank Reese unknowingly went to "roost" with a yellow jacket. A short time before day while Frank was having pleasant dreams Mr. Jacket decided that he would try the strength of his weapon on the sleeper and test his faith since the big meeting, yipping him twice. Frank was not long in rising up from the bed and finding out the whereabouts of the intruder which was soon cremated, Frank being the only spectator, who afterwards poulticed one wound with tobacco and stained the other with iodine. Time and space will not permit us telling the location of the wounds. Frank can inform you.

A Man and Girl From Lumpkin County Arrested.

One day last week Lewis Prewitt, a married man, and Rachael Walker, both of Lumpkin county, were arrested near Gainesville by the city officials at the request of Kim Walker, the girl's uncle, charged with eloping, who were carried back to the city and tried, but for the lack of sufficient proof to convict were discharged and both returned to this county Wednesday of last week.

For some time it has been noticed that they were most too intimate for a married man and a single woman and awhile before court the girl was induced to go near Gainesville and stop at a man's house by the name of Wooten who used to live at Wimpy's mill near Dahlonega, there to remain and await the arrival of Lewis who was summoned to serve on the special jury of Lumpkin Superior Court. Then, as rumored, they were to leave out for Tennessee.

Lewis passed through Dahlonega Monday of last week with knapsack on his back headed in the course of the girl's location, and the next time we heard of the two they were arrested by the officers a short distance from Thompson's bridge coming in this direction.

The girl is a daughter of Wash Walker and had been staying at ex sheriff Pruitts, a brother to Lewis, up to a few days before she left. She has many relatives in this county who endeavored to keep her from making this downward step but she heeded not, preferring to take the advice of Lewis than her friends.

Lewis has been married three times. First wife having died several years ago, when he married again and a separation soon followed, but being unhappy alone and not being willing to wait until he could be granted a divorce he married the third time, afterwards being divorced from his second wife and now has some five or six children. He is about as ugly as the writer and why it is that a single woman will fall in love with him is a little strange, but love works in many mysterious ways.

Lewis is now stopping with his wife and spent several hours in the city last Saturday, knocking around with his many acquaintances holding his head as high as ever, while the girl is stopping with a relative down on the creek ashamed to show her face and now has no welcome place to rest her weary head.

This should be another warning to females. A man's faults are soon forgotten, but a girl carries a stained character to her grave. This young girl's mother died when she was a babe and she was raised by a good grand ma, who always taught her to do right, and her course is very much regretted.

TEACHERS' EXAMINATION.
The next teachers' examination will be held at Dahlonaga the last Saturday in May, 1897. The question will be taken from the following books: Parker's Theory and Practice of Teaching, White's School Management, Parker's Talks on Teaching and Outlines of Methods, the same that was used last year. Arrangements for holding the Institute have not yet been completed.

FOR ALL WOMEN

Non-torment of all the pain and sickness from which women suffer is caused by weakness or derangement in the organs of menstruation. Nearly always when a woman is not well these organs are affected. But when they are strong and healthy a woman is very seldom sick.

MELREE'S Wine of Cardui

Is nature's provision for the regulation of the menstrual function. It cures all "female troubles." It is equally effective for the girl in her teens, the young wife with domestic and maternal cares, and the woman approaching the period known as the "Change of Life." They all need it. They are all benefited by it.

"For advice in cases requiring special directions, address, giving name, to the 'Ladies' Advisory Department,' The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn."

THOS. J. COOPER, Toledo, Miss., says:
"My sister suffered from very irregular and painful menstruation and could not relieve her. I got of Cardui entirely cured her and also helped my mother through the 'Change of Life.'"

The Condemned Wife.

May 6, 1897.

MR. EDITOR:—
Will you allow space in your valuable paper for a song that was composed by a woman sentenced to be hanged for the murder of her husband, in Fannin county, Ga., in about 1830? Her name was Mrs. Silvers.

Oh dreadful dark and dismal days,
How has my glory fled away?
My sun goes down, my days are past,
And I must leave the world at last.

Oh Lord, what will become of me?
I am condemned, you all may see,
To heaven or hell my soul must fly,
All in a moment when I die.

Judge Daniels has my sentenced past,
The present world I leave at last,
Nothing to cheer my drooping head,
Till I am numbered with the dead.

But oh, that dreadful Judge I fear!
Shall I that awful sentence bear?
"Depart ye cursed down to hell,
In pain forever there to dwell."

Mo-thinks those frighting ghosts I see,
Gives there to every memory,
And there I must attend to be,
For murder in the first degree.

How shall I meet that mournful face
Whose blood I spilt upon that place,
With frighting eyes shall say to me,
"Why did you take my life away?"

His feeble hands fell gently down,
His chattering voice soon lost its sound;
To see his soul and body part,
It strikes with terror to my heart.

I took his blooming days away,
Left him no time to God to pray,
And if his sins fall on my head,
Must I bear them in his stead?

The jealous thought that first give strife,
Caused me to take my husband's life,
For days and months I spent my time
To perpetrate that awful crime.

It was a dark and stormy night
That I put his body out of sight;
With flames tried him to consume,
But time would not permit it.

All you that see and on me gaze,
Be careful how you spend your days,
And try to serve your God in time,
And never commit such a awful crime.

My mind on awful subjects roll,
My little babe, God bless its soul,
All you that are of Adams race,
Let not my crime, this child disgrace.

Farewell good people, you all now see
What my bad conduct has brought on me,
The awful shame and such disgrace
Before the world and human race.

A wful indeed to think of death,
In perfect health I loose my breath,
Goodbye my friends I bid adieu,
Vengeance on me will soon pursue.

Oh Lord, how shall I be forgiven?
Not fit for earth, nor fit for heaven,
But little time to pray to God,
Before I start that awful road.

Advantages of Electricity.

While electricity is certain to effect a very material saving in manufacturing it has other uses quite as important. Where there is one factory there may be hundreds of dwellings, and when the electric current can be introduced into these dwellings its advantages will be manifold. As to economy, the Niagara falls power has produced the most startling results. It costs but $36 a year per horsepower for electricity used 24 hours in the day. This is much less than the cost of steam used 10 hours a day. There are hopes that even these figures will be very materially reduced, and that new appliances will show new uses for electricity, and that we will not only have our houses lighted and heated by this means, but it will be able to perform many services automatically. One of the latest adaptations of electricity is its use in laundries. The irons are heated by electricity, and by proper regulation a current is used which is absolutely uniform. All of the heat is utilized, and every stroke of the iron tells, as there is no waiting or wondering or questioning if the iron is hot enough. Another great advantage is that it does not heat the room, as the radiation from the iron is not perceptible. Gas heated irons vitiate the atmosphere, and the operators become weary and lack vitality. Where natural gas has heretofore been employed for heating irons it is now used to generate electricity, and the change is of great advantage, both financially and in point of health.—New York Ledger.

The History of the Inauguration Ball.

The inauguration ball dates from the very beginning. There was a ball when Washington was inaugurated in New York, but owing to the pressure of other demands upon his time it did not take place till the evening of March 7. Washington attended and performed a minuet with Miss Van Zand and danced cotillions with Mrs. Peter Van Brugh Livingston, Mrs. Maxwell and others. There was no ball at his second inauguration because of its extremely quiet character, and there was none when Mr. Adams came in because of the general grief over Washington's departure. I can find no mention of a ball when Jefferson was inaugurated, but there was one when Madison came in, and since then there has been no break in the custom. There were two when Polk was inaugurated, and two when Taylor succeeded him—an administration and an opposition ball on each occasion, both very well attended. The crush was so great at the Taylor administration ball that many persons narrowly escaped injury, and there were loud complaints because of the inadequate supply of refreshments.—Joseph B. Bishop in Century.

Most any young man of average industry and intellect can gather inspiration from the life of Andrew Carnegie, the great Pennsylvania iron magnate. He began life as a telegraph operator, and did what in ninety nine cases out of a hundred would be a most inadvisable thing to do, mortgaged his mother's home in order to raise funds with which to start himself in business. But by money thus acquired judiciously invested he soon wiped out the mortgage and eventually became sole owner of an iron foundry. Later his brother was associated with him, and from one they came into the ownership of six of the biggest iron foundries in the United States. Their profits were soon estimated by the millions. Andrew Carnegie's fortune alone is estimated at $40,000,000.

Refused Without Proposing.

Few women outside of royalties ever "popped the question" to a man, and perhaps only one has had the experience of being rejected by a man without having proposed to him. There was one, and the Hon. L. A. Tollemache tells the story in his "personal Memoir of Benjamin Jowett," master of Balliol, Oxford. The master's personality was potent and penetrating and good women felt its fascination. An undergraduate was ill at Balliol College, and his sister coming to Oxford to nurse him, was invited by Dr. Jowett to stay at his house. She received from him the utmost kindness and attention, and when leaving said, with much hesitation, that she would venture to ask a very great favor. She again hesitated; the master grew uneasy and looked interrogative.

"Will you marry me?" at last she asked. He paced up and down, blushed deeply, and replied: "That would not be good, either for you or me." "Oh! oh!" exclaimed the young lady, blushing even more deeply. "I meant to say I am going to be married and would you perform the services?" She had been refused, poor girl, without having proposed.

"Our paper is two days late this week," writes a Nebraska editor, "owing to an accident to our press. When we started to run the addition on Wednesday night, as usual one of the guy ropes gave away, allowing the forward gliderfluke to fall and break as it struck the flunker-flopper. This, of course, as anyone who knows anything about a press will readily understand, left the gang-plank with only the flip-flap to support it, which also dropped and broke off the wapper-choke. This loosened the fluking between the ramrod and the fiber-snatcher, which also caused trouble. The report that the trouble was caused by over-indulgence in intoxicating stimulants by oneself is a tissue of falsehoods, the peeled appearance of our right eye being caused by our going into the hatchway of the press in our anxiety to start it, and pulling the coupling-pin after the slapping was broken, which caused the dingus to rise up and welt us in the optic. We expect a brand new gliderfluke on this afternoon's train."

The most wonderful tree that grows is found in the Pacific islands says the Philadelphia Record from this tree the natives procure towels, cloth, tinder and bread. It is about as tall as a 3-story house, and the branches, which come out straight from the tree, like so many arms, are covered with leaves and fruit not unlike apples in appearance. This fruit is used as bread, it is in season during eight months of the year, the natives finding a good living in it. As for glue, it cozes from the trunk of the tree, and is found useful for many purposes; the leaves make excellent towels for the natives who care to use them, and from the inner bark of the tree a kind of coarse cloth can be made. Besides this, its dried blossoms are used for tinder in lightning fires, and the wood is in great demand for building purposes.

The Deadly Sex.

God bless the ladies! We couldn't get along without 'em, but all the same they do cause a tremendous lot of tribulation in this topsy-turvy world of ours. The two sensations which have agitated Atlanta this week are, as usual, to be traced directly to the gentler sex. If handsome Miss Cohen hadn't been clerk of the Sanitary Department, Inspector Joiner would have held his tongue, and ditto his job, and all these painful revelations of short accounts, and shady horse deals would have remained comfortably concealed behind the transcendental respectability of the Board of Health. And if Mrs. O.'Brien, (to pursue the figure) hadn't smiled on Young Bamford until that gallant officer was moved to break his engagement with the Captain's daughter—if nothing of this sort had occurred, why, dove-eyed peace would never have ceased to brood above the barracks of McPherson.

So a pair of bright eyes is one case rips a large, jagged hole through the fabric of municipal government, and in another convulses the army of a nation.

A Snake Story.

The Acworth Post claims that Charley Floyd, a negro man of that town, placed the "shed skin" of a snake in his hat to keep his head cool—that after wearing it there for some time, that pains attacked him in the head, that he grew worse—doctors could do nothing for him—a real snake formed and grew under the negro's skin, and the "outlines of the real snake could be felt and seen crawling downward in the body of the negro; from cheek to thigh it went, it appeared to be twelve or fourteen inches long and as large as a man's wrist. The leg burst and the negro died a horrible death."

The first successful operation on the human heart known in the history of surgery is reported to have been performed in Berlin a few days ago. The patent was stabbed in the heart, and when brought in to the hospital Dr. Rehe, the operating physician, laid bare the organ and sewed up the orifice. Truly the triumphs of surgery are keeping pace with the discoveries made in the electrical world. It is probable, however, that a good many fruitless efforts will be made before the operation can be successfully performed in the majority of cases.—Exchange.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, GA., MAY 14, 1897.
Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga. P. O.
as Second Class Matter.

The crops throughout the State are reported to be doing well.

Colorado has recently passed a law doing away with capital punishment.

Crot. Moore, an old Dahlonega boy, has been appointed post master at Floyd Springs.

Nineteen persons at a picnic in California were poisoned by drinking lemonade. The nature of the "stick in it" will be investigated.—Chicago Tribune.

Gen. James Longstreet has been assured that he will succeed Gen. Wade Hampton as commissioner of railroads. This news comes direct from the President.

Twenty-six years ago the palace of the Tuilleries was destroyed. Four officials are still drawing pay for taking care of it. That almost equals the reversionary of a savings bank.—Chicago Dispatch.

London, May 10.—The canard circulated in the United States that Samuel L. Clemens (Mark Twain) was dead had not the slightest foundation. Mr. Clemens is in London, and in better health and spirits than for a long time past. He is still working hard on his new book.

When you hear dogs howl now you may know the reason why. The United States supreme court has decided that they are to be classed long with cats, rabbits and other half wild things, and must not be regarded as property unless they appear as such on the assessment roll.

The statement is made that old rags are chemically distilled and converted into whisky. Why not? In the economy of nature the water of the earth rises in clouds to fall again as rain; and since, as everybody knows, whisky makes rags, why should not rags make whisky?—Georgia Cracker.

A bill passed the Connecticut State Senate recently last authorizing the collection of claims for $150,000 against the United States for money paid out by Connecticut in equipping troops for the civil war, and allowing the agent appointed to collect 15 per cent. commission. The bill will pass the House this week and Governor Cooke will sign it. Mr. Fessenden is to be appointed collection agent.

The Georgia public school system is far from perfect. But it is the best school system Georgia has ever had, and should receive the encouragement of all good citizens. Those who do not like it are not obliged to patronize it, and those who need free education can get it. Even a man like Sam Jones, who is fanatically opposed to public schools on general principles, is obliged to admit the advantage of that.—Ex.

Mrs. Nobles has a new lease on life and there is no telling the end. Her hired accomplice has been promised his life as long as hers is spared. They are both guilty, as no one doubts. This all being true will the governor still when the good people lynch the next murderer? Will the judge and solicitor keep their mouths shut the first murderer they find hanging to a tree? Will the law be offended when the next rapist is hanged?—Adairsville Banner.

A dispatch from Panama to the Herald says: The Herald correspondent at Managua sends word that A. P. Alexander, that engineer appointed by President Cleveland as a member of the commission which has in hand the settlement of the boundary dispute between Costa Rica and Nicaragua, has arrived at Managua and was received by the minister for foreign affairs. The commissioners then started for Greytown, and will begin their work there.

McNelly and His Mining Article.

As heretofore stated Mr. W. G. McNelly, editor of the Lawrenceville News, came up to Dahlonega some days since and demanded one thousand dollars from Capt. H. D. Ingersoll, who recently sold the Cupps property through the influence of Mr. Walker, of Ellijay, claiming that he was entitled to it as commissions on the sale, on account of at one time having it under option, first endeavoring to get the money out of Mr. Walker. But as the editors option had expired some time ago the Captain and Mr. Walker both refused to comply with his request and he went back with his pockets about as light as when appearing in our community. This made the quill driver angry and in order to get revenge published an article in the nature of a burlesque in the next issue of his paper about our mines, endeavoring to injure the people of Dahlonega and Lumpkin county.

Since Mr. McNelly has made this attack it might not be amiss for us to give a very pointed biographical sketch of the gentleman in order to show him up in his true colors so as to prevent any one from being deceived by him as the people of Dahlonega once were.

At the solicitation of some parties in Dahlonega he was induced to come here and start the publication of the Nugget. When he arrived in this vicinity in March 1890 he was like many other printers, penniless with the rear part of his pants thin enough for a face cover at a masquerade ball. He was loaned money to start the printing business, the sheriff and ordinary taking away half the legal advertising from a life long citizen and giving it to him, and he was liberally patronized by our citizens and his paper soon became a welcome visitor in hundreds of households in this section. Afterwards he became interested in the mines and prospered, accumulating more than three thousand dollars in a very short time. Prosperity was a new thing to him and he soon got too big for his breeches. Running a country newspaper was too small a thing for him then and he disposed of the NUGGET, quit mining, went into another county and "blew" all his money into a lime kiln. He returned to Dahlonega and went to making newspapers again. But the people didn't care to do what they had done for him before and he got mad at every thing and every body and commenced striking right and left like a poisonous snake in Dog Days, and when he moved away remarked, so we are informed, "that he left here without a single friend in the town." If Mr. McNelly has no friends here it was certainly his conduct that caused it, for friendship was shown him once on the part of our citizens when they fitted him up in business on his first arrival and they are now receiving thanks(?) for their kindness towards him. A man that will not praise the bridge that carries him over is no man at all.

His past conduct is the reason why no big reception was tendered him on his arrival the other day and only a watch was struck and a musket cap bursted instead of a bon fire and the roaring of the cannons when he came in.

The mines here are just as good as they were when he followed the business and we have files of his paper to show that he himself made big profits while engaged else he made false statements.

Bob Hix and John Simons had a difficulty some days ago in Mill Creek district at the house of Manda Gaddis, a woman of ill repute, in which Hix was stabbed five times. One of the cuts was over the heart but the blade of the knife fortunately went downward which kept it from killing him instantly. A warrant has been issued against Simons but the officers have been unable to arrest him so far. The wounded man couldn't be moved for several days and is in a very dangerous condition.

The First Sunday School in Dahlonega.

Mr. Editor:— You made mention in a late issue of your paper to the time when the Methodist Sunday School was first established in Dahlonega. It was certainly a long time ago, and our Methodist brethren are entitled to a great deal of credit for their work in this direction. But the Sunday School established at Dahlonega in the old Academy in 1838 was under the auspices of the Presbyterians though known as "The Union Sunday School." All the literature was published by the American Sunday School Union. This School was superintended by the late Frederick D. Boardfield, Sr., for twelve years, and maintained largely by Dr. David H. Mason, his wife and daughters, and by Mrs. Montgomery Wingfield, Miss Fannie Singleton, Hugh A. Fraser, Andrew Morrison and James Kelly. All were Presbyterians. Mr. A. G. Wimpy, Mr. Wm. Warwick, Col. Robert H. Moore and other Methodist people were teachers.

I do not recollect any Baptist teachers, because at that time, Baptist leaders were not much in favor of Sunday Schools, although nearly every Baptist family in Dahlonega sent their children to this Union School.

It was not until 1849 or 1850, that the Methodist Sunday School organized with Mr. A. G. Wimpy as superintendent. The Presbyterians and Baptists continued the Union Sunday School for several years longer when it was dissolved. The Baptists maintained an irregular School and Bible class for several years before the war. In 1866 the present Baptist Sunday School was re-organized and has had a fair attendance for the past thirty years.

The writer entered the Union School in 1840 at the age of five years. His first teacher was Mrs. David H. Mason, a Presbyterian lady. His last teacher in that school was Mr. Hugh A. Fraser, a pious, devoted Presbyterian. Both of these revered persons have long since passed to their account, together with old Mr. Boardfield, the superintendent, whom every body loved. I have been a Sunday School pupil, teacher and superintendent for fifty-seven years.

The Crazy Negro.

A jury was empaneled last Saturday to try Moses Hamilton, col., for lunacy who had been confined in jail ever since his wild drive over our streets last week with Hatfield's team. Since his confinement he became seriously sick and Mrs. Jones and Wheelchel believed it best to await developments before going into trial, thinking probably it was temporary insanity and possibly he would get better. On Monday he conversed with very good sense and told the physicians that he was taken with a severe pain in his head and soon afterwards every thing turned dark. At times he talks with as much sense as any one.

On Wednesday morning Lum Hamilton, a brother, proposed to take charge of him and carry him to the country. The warrant for lunacy was withdrawn and Moses was turned over to his brother who started off with him to his country home where it was hoped that he would recover. But in the afternoon Lum returned with his brother or stating that he only got him a short distance and was unable to control him, asking that the ordinary proceed with the case as the law directs.

Mr. Tate told the negro to carry him back again telling Lum that he would not be held responsible for any damage that he might do. He was put in a wagon and carried away by force. In the night Lum returned with him again and swore out a warrant for lunacy against him and had him put in jail. Next day he was tried and found a fit subject for the asylum.

Mayor's Court.

Wm. Dotson, his wife and Docia Beck were up before the Mayor last Monday charged with fighting. The man and his wife were fined each one dollar and cost while Docia was acquitted.

It is an evident fact that Dotson spends more time at this woman's house than he does at home, provides far better and is kinder to her than he is to the one he promised to care for in sickness and in health. This has been the case for a long time and the wife and people have been aware of the fact, and every grand jury that meets here have endeavored to see that they were punished according to law but have so far failed. On the day before the fight occurred that night Mrs. Dotson had been plowing and doing other farm work, having but little to eat for herself and children while her husband was away taking his meals at this woman's house consisting of the best substantial food he could procure in town. So the night of the trouble the industrious wife came to town and met Docia in company with Will Howell just before the college carrying quite a load of eatables, Dotson following close behind. It was more than she could bear and she lit in on Docia like lightning fire when Bill, her husband, ran up and struck his wife a time or two.

At the trial Mrs. Dotson was made a witness against Docia when she told about Will Howell being with her, locked arm and arm. They talked in a low and lovely tone apparently as happy as a young married couple starting out on a bridal tour. These facts coming to light made Will blush like a young girl wearing her first long dress. He is naturally bashful anyway, being so much so that he will not even pull off his coat in the presence of ladies when going to work. He is an active member of the church and always has good Sunday School lessons and the matter has given him so much trouble since that he has been compelled to take Dovers' powder in order to get the required rest.

Dotson was unable to pay his fine and was sent to the calaboose. He first attempted to mortgage a steer in order to secure the money but his wife said that it belonged to her and she scheduled the property to keep the fine from being settled in this way. Bill craves nothing about being in prison except it separates him and the one he loves better than his wife, being the longest he has remained away from her since her lovely smiles won his affections. She seems to think a great deal of Bill for she has visited the calaboose every day since his confinement and peeped through the door at him.

For weeks our citizens have been expecting to hear of the appointment of a new post master at Dahlonega, but none has been made as we go to press. The applicants for the position now are Capt. H. D. Ingersoll, Judge J. C. Brittain, Mr. H. F. Anderson and Mr. O. H. Hall. Just before Col. Buck left for Washington the other day he informed Col. Price that the matter was now entirely in the hands of Col. H. P. Farrow. It is said that the Colonel doesn't care to shoulder the responsibility as this is his home county and all the aspirants are his personal friends. So this is the way the matter now stands.

Mr. Lon Hix, of Cherokee Mills, spent a day or two in Dahlonega this week. It may be that he will return again in the near future and deposit $1.50 with the ordinary for he went away wearing a rose on the lapel of his coat given him by one of Dahlonega's prettiest young ladies.

Some time ago a young man not living a hundred miles from Dahlonega wrote a letter to a certain young lady of this county desiring to know if she would correspond with him. The lady declined by sending him a letter asking to be excused. This didn't seem to stop the young man from writing for he just kept on but got no reply. At last he got mad and sent her a very insulting letter, and among some of his poetry was the following:

Jews Christ jumped over the list,
If you love me as I love you,
Come snacking your hands over,
And I will be twice.

Paints, oil, brushes, putty, glass and builders hardware at Hall Mds Co.

Both of the town pumps have been put in good condition this week by the town authorities.

County School Commissioner Seabolt requests us to state that teachers money for the first quarter is now ready for them.

W. J. Worley left for the upper portion of the county Wednesday to be gone several days looking up some property for parties residing in Charleston, S. C.

It will be seen by the tax receivers notice elsewhere that he is now making his last round and all those wishing to save trouble in the future should see him and return their property before it is doubled.

The Marshal is now giving the sanitary condition of the town his especial attention. Only one day's notice is given parties to clean places about their premises after he notifies them that it is necessary.

A few days ago W. T. Bryson and Ben Hollifield bought a baby carriage at W. B. Fry's sale at Auraria. Mr. Bryson has been married about twenty five years and has no children, while Mr. Hollifield is a single man. The question is, what are they going to do with the carriage?

Maj. Bullard visited the Nashville Exposition this week. The Major has tendered his resignation and will take his departure from Dahlonega on August the 25th, being assured of a promotion. Another officer will be sent here by the government in time to take charge of the military department of the college at the fall session.

The house where Tom Duckett resided down at the Yahoola mine was destroyed by fire Tuesday afternoon, supposed to have caught from a stove pipe. Mrs. Duckett and her husband were at the mill on this side of the creek when they discovered the house on fire, while the out hands were a quarter of a mile distant, but all got there in time to save the contents of the building.

The revenue officers went over the Blue Ridge latter part of last week to destroy an illicit distillery which had been reported to them. The still had been pulled out of the furnace and carried away while the operators could no where be found, causing the informant to loose his fee of ten dollars. On their return Marshal Harbison came across Bob Brady, one fourth Indian blood, who he carried a warrant against, and brought him to town. He was tried before Com. Baker and acquitted.

We saw a man on his return the other day from Atlanta who had had a trial in the United States Court for blockading. He said that the most important witness had sworn a lie which cleared him. He stated that he swore the truth on him at the committal trial, but in the final trial testified that he was mistaken, that it was a twin brother that he saw in the illicit distillery. The blockader told us that he never did have a twin brother. So, you see it is best to swear the truth, for even the defendant didn't thank the witness.

We had a pleasant call on last Thursday afternoon from Miss Sallie Reid, one of Lumpkin county's brightest and best school teachers, and her little brother Charles. The little boy made us a couple of speeches and if he lives will quite likely make a fine orator one of these days. When the little fellow was speaking it called our mind back to our school boy days when we used to have a stone bruise on one foot and the great toes of the other tied up in a rag on account of a lost nail. Notwithstanding all this pain they were the happiest days on earth.

Mr. Leory Pitner speaks of moving back to this place from Newnan.

Since our last issue the ordinary changed his mind and paid Sheriff Brooksher for bringing Hutson back from Atlanta.

Mr. A. J. Edge informed us Wednesday that he had to kill his dog which was bitten by a dog recently on account of it being mad.

Mr. Frank Waters, an old student of the N. G. A. College, who is residing at Ellijay was out on a visit to relatives in Dahlonega this week.

Several hundred dollars worth of clothing just received at Moore & McGuire's to be sold cheaper than any heretofore sold in Dahlonega.

We noticed a young lady and gentleman exchanging beautiful roses and pleasant smiles Wednesday last. This means that the ordinary's finances will be increased some time in the future.

We lost a dollar and a half job the other day on account of exposing a certain matter. When we get so we are afraid to tell the truth in this paper on public matters we will quit the business.

The young ladies are practicing every night at the college for the commencement exercises, while the boys go out into the woods and deliver their speeches in order to see how their voices echo in the hills and hollows.

As stated heretofore the new ordinary only pays the sheriff 33 1/3 cents per day for dieting prisoners instead of fifty. Sheriff Brooksher commenced legal proceedings this week to try to recover fifty cents per day, the amount heretofore allowed by every ordinary of the county. Col. W. A. Charters is his attorney.

There is no use going across the mountains fishing when the finny tribe can be caught in the streams this side just as well when you get into the secret of fishing. A female here who has long since discovered the secret goes to the creek, after her lover has baited the hole, and having her hook named after him, jerks them out as fast as she can bait the hook until she catches as many as she wants.

We noticed a one seated vehicle pass through Dahlonega last Wednesday drawn by a poor gray horse, loaded with a man and woman, three children and a good quantity of baggage. The little fellows kept a good grip on the back of the seat while the back part of the vehicle had heavy wire across it to keep them from falling out in case they went to sleep. They were strangers and where they are bound for we do not know.

Tuesday night Mr. Deil of Atlanta, who sells soap for the Georgia Company became seriously sick with a bowel trouble a few hours after arriving in Dahlonega. Drs. Wheelchel and Jones were summoned who did all they could to relieve the suffering man, at the same time Dr. Ham, of Gainesville, was sent for, thinking probably that an operation would have to be performed, but a short time the following night before the Gainesville physician arrived Mr. Deil got better and kept on improving until he was able to leave for his home yesterday.

Last Wednesday Marshal Harbison and Walker visited the premises of Lewis Tate in White county and brought back his still. When they arrived at Lewis' no one was at home and while close to the house they could smell beer, singlings, etc. They went up above the house a short distance and found a blind ditch of water which they traced to his dwelling and on opening the door of a side room found a still in the furnace and everything in good shape for blockading. The officers state that the distillery had the appearance of being in operation for a long time.

Ordinary Tate visited Gainesville on business this week.

Post master Gurley had a mess of peas the 4th inst., which is the earliest that we have heard of in this section.

Mrs. Hannicut left for Demorest last Tuesday at which place her husband is carrying on a projected meeting.

Mr. Jaquish left New Bridge this week and has gone to Wooley's Ford where he is constructing a new dredge boat.

Col. Charters is spending several hundred dollars in repairs on his house recently purchased opposite Col. Prices.

All mining operations are moving along as usual and we have nothing in this line of a special nature to report this week.

Tax Collector Sargent was here last Friday trying to find persons selling pistol and gun cartridges so he could collect $25, but they had all quit dealing in them. Those merchants that did sell them have shipped what they had on hand back since seeing the Comptroller's letter to the tax collector.

Mr. W. T. Bryson was up from Auraria district last Tuesday, accompanied by Mr. Packard, owner of the celebrated Turkey Hill property, having a sack containing many beautiful specimens of gold ore taken from this property recently. Already enough of ore has been exposed on this property to run a large stamp mill for many years to come and pay handsome profits as the gold can be seen in the ore proving that it is very rich.

Rev. C. W. Stargel will preach expressly to the members of the church at Siloam next Saturday. Persons belonging should have no excuse to remain at home, as it is their duty to go out and hear him. Those that have been acting right will find that it will not hurt them, and those that have been doing wrong may be benefited by the divine who never while washes anything but speaks the truth. In other words he hews to the line and lets the chips fall where they may.

James Smith of White county was tried before Com. Baker last Tuesday evening and bound over for illicit distilling. On the 15th of April the officers visited his premises and found a still ready for use within two hundred and fifty yards of his house with a plain path and wagon tracks leading from the same to the distillery. The government will have to commence buying eggs by the wholesale and be ready for Smith for he informed us that he loaded his stomach with eighteen at one time.

John Walden, who works at the Lookhart mine, not knowing that the young people were having a picnic near by last Saturday, came out of the mines at noon and commenced putting on dry clothing. He had removed his pants and coat and was in the act of taking off his white garments when Will Crisson commenced yelling for him to stop. This attracted the attention of the picnickers and one young man who never had a serious thought in his life gave a hearty laugh and John lit out for a place to hide with his garments fanning swiftly in the breeze while the young folks blushed and chewed their handkerchiefs.

The other day while Col. Price was in Atlanta he was requested by a friend to go up and see Judge Newman. During their conversation the Judge asked the Col. how about the blockading up in Lumpkin. The Colonel informed him that the Marshal had told him that there was more of it going on in this section now than at any time since he had been in office. The Judge turned his head to one side and said "I have been too easy on them. I will send some of them to the penitentiary." Those who are engaged in the business should stop at once for the Judge means to make a decrease in the business.

Merchant J. E. McGee is still got a few more pounds of that good coffee which he sells eight pounds to the dollar.

"Uncle" John Carder aged 85, who recently lost the sight of both eyes by accident, joined Pleasant Hill Church last Sunday.

Col. Farrow writes now that he will not be at home until about the first of June from Washington. It is thought that the Colonel will get a good position under Mr. McKinley yet.

Last week before the Inspector arrived one of the new cadets was seen out scrubbing his feet. He thought it was something similar to an old fashion foot washing at a Baptist church.

We have our house rent and paper bills paid and were offered a grown gobbler the other day for sixty cents. Oh, the good times arrived just as we learned to eat poke salad without either grease or salt in it.

There is a young man in Auraria district that is not allowed to go with his sweetheart to church but he is always on hand and sets off and casts a wishful eye using Macaboy snuff with a sweet gum twig for a brush.

The Federal Court in Atlanta has adjourned and the blockades of the mountains will have either to quit the business, prepare to make bonds or remain in jail until Judge Newman returns from New Orleans some time in next month.

U. S. Inspector Garlington was up last Friday inspecting the college cadets, which lasted about two hours. He left for Gainesville that afternoon apparently very well pleased with the progress the boys had made in military tactics.

There is an old man and his wife residing in this county that separated the other day after living together near forty years. It required a long time to learn that they didn't love each other and that marriage was a failure. They have several grand children.

There is some work already for the next grand jury. Some days ago a drunken man appeared at Peck's Chapel and pulled out a quart bottle of liquor, tried to get two of the members of the next grand jury to drink with him. They refused, of course, but he kept on until he found a fellow that couldn't stand the temptation who drank the contents of the bottle until he got so happy that he even loved his mother-in-law.

"Uncle" Charlie Besser left for Atlanta last Saturday where he goes to spend his birth day at his sons, being 86 years old the first day of June. The old man is getting very frail and looks as if he did not have long to remain on earth. One day last week some one gave him a basket of flowers to put on his wife's grave and the poor old fellow made an effort to walk out to the cemetery, but he was too feeble and returned and said with tears in his eyes, "that he had started to carry some flowers to put on mama's grave but was too weak to go." He has decorated his wife's grave with flowers every spring since she died until this and it was with much grief that he was unable to do so this time.

New Baptist Church.

Work will be commenced in a few weeks to build the new Baptist Church. It will be of brick and located on Chestnut Street. An opportunity will be given to every person living in Dahlonega, both old and young, rich and poor, to contribute something to the erection of the new church. A subscription book will be found open at all times at the office of Price & Charters where names and amounts will be thankfully received. W. P. PRICE, Ch'm'n, E. B. VICKERY, Sec'y, Building Committee.

Two Men Narrowly Escape Being Killed.

Latter part of last week W. W. Crisson and Frank McDonald both came near being killed at the Lookhart Mine.

Crisson was dumping a bucket weighing some five or six hundred pounds and got his hand fastened by a hook in the bucket as it was being let down into the shaft. To let it remain he would be pulled off into the 65 foot shaft, and to jerk it it would tear his hand. It was certainly a critical moment for the man as he had but little time to think. So just as the bucket reached the edge of shaft he made a strong jerk and extricated his hand which removed a large piece of flesh, almost exposing the bone.

In ten minutes afterwards while on the stage greasing the machinery he heard the loud screams of his companion and in looking around saw McDonald going over and over through a small space, having his clothing caught by a set screw in a shaft that makes several hundred revolutions a minute. He jumped down a distance of ten feet and shut the water off but before the machinery ceased moving Franks mining jacket tore loose which extricated him from this perilous position. Fortunately he received nothing but slight injuries. His whole breast was bruised but the skin was not broken.

It was certainly a narrow escape. The space through which he was carried is less than two feet and had he not tucked down his head it would have struck a heavy piece of timber and caused instant death.

Another Woman in Trouble.

Last Friday quite a good looking female appeared on our streets enquiring for a lawyer, carrying in her arms a babe of only a few weeks old.

Upon enquiry we ascertained that she resided in Mill Creek district Lumpkin county and her name was Caroline Pilgram, who had recently appeared before Squire Norton, of Dahlonega, and swore out a warrant against one Jack Anderson, living in the same district, charging him with bastardy.

Since that time, so she relates, she was induced to sign or make her mark to a paper, after which it was read to her and to the women surprise found that it was to the effect that she had made a false affidavit against Mr. Anderson, which mark was witnessed by Squire Chambers of the same locality, and the object of her visit here was to know how to proceed under these circumstances, but as she had no money nor friends she received but little attention from the legal fraternity then in Dahlonega.

She further stated that Mr. Chambers, who came in town after she did said he was authorized to give her three dollars to settle the case and might give four, but as Squire Norton always wants justice done, matters not how poor the parties are, said Mr. Anderson must either be tried or give bond as required by law. So the woman returned home and the defendant now has his choice as how to proceed.

We know nothing about the man or woman but think if she can raise and educate the child on three dollars she is one of the most remarkable woman on earth.

MR. NESBITT IN SOUTH GEORGIA

The Commissioner Writes of His Observations.

FARMERS FORGING TO THE FRONT

Only on Plantations Where Tenants Are Entertained With the Management of Affairs is Evidence of Stagnation Noticeable—Raising Home Supplies—Work For the Month Delayed.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, ATLANTA, May 1, 1897.

A recent and rather extended visit to the southwestern section of the state has much encouraged our belief in the advance of Georgia agriculture. Farms, which for years have been given over to broom-sedge and briars, are being reclaimed, and what were a few years ago trackless pine forests, are now dotted over with neat farm houses and well kept farms. It is only on the larger plantations, where tenants are entrusted with the management or management of farm affairs, that one notices the evidence of stagnation. The watchword seems to be "Progress" and farmers as a rule are attaining to a comfort and independence unknown in the years immediately succeeding the war. Of course there are exceptions, but in the main, where men have raised their home supplies and farmed on strictly business principles, the reward has been sure and it has not been long delayed. In many cases men who were formerly working for standing wages, or renting a one or two-mule farm, by this "open Sesame" of careful management, and of producing at home all the bread and meat needed to carry on their business, have been enabled to enter on the enjoyment of an independent home life whose equal for comfort and freedom from the rush and struggle of the general business world is not found on the globe. One negro man, who 15 years ago was hiring at $10.00 a month, today owns a 600-acre farm with comfortable 8-room house and necessary outbuildings, among which is a smoke house containing 800 pounds of home raised meat and cribs stored with corn and forage for the coming year of demand. Another man, white, who was once a renter with only a small force at his command, today runs 300 acres and owns hundreds of acres of land. On inquiry we found that the inflexible rule in both cases has been ample provision crops and as much cotton as could be well taken care of. In the first case, the man's own family of boys have helped him to gain his position. In the second, the goal has been reached by a strict adherence to agricultural business principles, coupled with a sagacity, which has enabled the owner to steer clear of speculation and produce his cotton at a figure several degrees below the selling price. What is in too land for these two men is there for others of equal pluck and energy.

THE WORK FOR THE MONTH has been very much delayed, more especially in the middle and northern sections of the state. The southern sections were not visited by the heavy rains of the winter and early spring, which the farmers feared would have to contend against, and as a rule work there is very well advanced. On account of numerous delays farther north, many farmers were unable to give the corn land the thorough preparation so necessary for a successful crop, and some have simply opened the rows, put in the manure, thrown two furrows on this and planted on the "list." Where this is the case, now is the time to give the corn land a thorough and deep breaking out. After this time it will be impossible to put the plow in close and deep without breaking off some of the delicate, feeding roots, which begin to extend in every direction not very far from the surface.

Where the land has been thoroughly prepared and is in good condition, the harrow will be found a very effective implement pushing forward effective work. Run diagonally across the rows; it will not hurt the young plants, but will effectively kill the coming crop of grass, and by its rapid work enable the farmer to give his attention to other pressing duties. In the more southern sections of the state the corn crop will soon be ready for the second working. Our object then should be to conserve moisture as well as kill grass and weeds, and this is best accomplished by cultivating as shallow and as flat as possible.

Over the cotton beds, where a crust has formed, the harrow does most efficient work, and unless the "stand" is very imperfect, does not injure the cotton. After harrowing allow the plants to remain until they can be brought to a "stand" at the first hoeing. This obviates the expensive and needless "hoeing out" once so extensively practiced. This plan presupposes the land in good condition. On rough or poorly prepared land, rows must be had to the scooter or harrow shovel, using a tender to prevent the close sowing from covering the young cotton and bolting on a half escape behind the foot of the plow, to cover the young grass in the middles.

FORAGE CROPS.
All sorts of forage crops have started this month. Sorghum, about which we have several answers in this inquiry column, cow peas, Spanish ground peas, millets, etc. Kaffir corn is attracting considerable attention on account of its drought resisting qualities.

TEACHERS EXAMINATION.
The next teachers examination will be held at Dahlonaga the last Saturday in May, 1897. The question will be taken from the following books: Parker's Theory and Practice of Teaching, White's School Management, Parker's Talks on Teaching and Outlines of Methods, the same that was used last year. Arrangements for holding the Institute have not yet been completed.

McKREE'S
Wine of Cardui
has demonstrated ten thousand times that it is almost infallible
FOR WOMAN'S PECULIAR
irregularities and derangements. It has become the leading remedy for this class of troubles. It exerts a wonderfully healing, strengthening and soothing influence upon the menstrual system. It cures "white" and "black" discharges, "wobles" and fullness of the womb. It stops flooding and relieves suppressed and painful menstruation. For a change of life it is the best medicine made. It is beneficial during pregnancy, and helps to bring children into homes barren for years. It invigorates, stimulates, strengthens the whole system. This great remedy is offered to all afflicted women. Why will any woman suffer needlessly when she can obtain relief by taking Wine of Cardui only once a day per bottle at your drug store.
For advice in cases requiring special directions, address, giving symptoms, the "Ladies' Advisory Department," 100 Broadway, New York City, U. S. A.
Rev. J. W. SMITH, Camden, S. C., writes: "My wife used Wine of Cardui for her falling of the womb and it entirely cured her."

My Absent Mother.

Darling mother mother thou art absent,
Far from me you are gone away,
But in memory thou art present,
Close beside me every day.
And by night in dreams I see thee;
Hear thy voice so sweet and low,
Saying in tones so kind and gentle,
My Saviour calls and I must go.
Ah! those eyes so bright they sparkle
As I view them in the night,
I can even see the rinkles
Play upon thy brow so white.
But the charms I have just mentioned,
Are to me in memory sweet.
"Mother," in this world, I never can see;
But in Heaven I hope to meet.
But our kind and Heavenly Father,
Who always knows what is best,
Has taken her from this world of care
Into a world of joy and rest.
Now when I come from school
Tired out with constant care,
I long for the touch of mothers hand
To smooth back my ruffled hair.
To hear her voice sweetly say,
I've been looking for thee so long
While I sit here near this window
Sing for me that dear old song
"Sweet fields beyond the swelling flood."
It's been singing in my ears,
Oh! this brings me back to mother
Though she's been dead about twelve years.
Sometimes my father comes in
from work,
Just in his usual way
Saying, "daughter, I miss your mother."
I of times hear him say,
One by one each task is numbered
With deft fingers each began,
Till at last we hear the sentence
Husband, daughter, "Thou art well done."

A Remarkable Dinner.

The most remarkable dinner ever served is the one recently given by an old antiquary named Goebel, in the city Brussels. A description of the meal is furnished to the Boston Cooking School Magazine by one of the guests, Mr. Amazin Dukes, of New York. Says the New Yorker: "At that dinner I ate apples that ripened more than eighteen hundred years ago; bread made from wheat grown before the children of Israel passed through the Red sea and spread with butter that was made when Elizabeth was queen of England; and I washed down the repast with wine that was old when Columbus was playing barefoot with the boys of Genoa. The apples were from an earthen jar taken from the ruins of Pompeii. The wheat was taken from a chamber in one of the pyramids, the butter from a stone shell in an old well in Scotland, where for several centuries it has lain in an earthen crock in icy water, and the wine was recovered from an old vault in the city of Cornith. There were six guests at the table, and each had a mouthful of the bread and a tea spoon of the wine, but was permitted to help himself bountifully to the butter, there being several pounds of it. The apple jar held about two thirds of a gallon. The fruit was sweet and finely flavored as if it had been put up yesterday."

How to Succeed.

Most of our successful men began life without a dollar. They won success by hard work and strict honesty. You can do the same. Here is a dozen rules for getting along in the world:
1. Be honest. Dishonesty seldom makes one rich, and when it does, its riches are as a curse. There is no such thing as dishonesty success.
2. Work. The world is not going to pay for nothing. Ninety per cent. of what men call genius only a talent for hard work.
3. Enter into that business or trade you like best, and for which nature seems to have fitted you, provided it is honorable.
4. Be independent. Do not lean on others to do your thinking or to conquer difficulties.
5. Be conscientious in the discharge of every duty. Do your work thoroughly. No one rises who slights his work.
6. Don't try to begin on top. Begin at the bottom and you will be surer of reaching the top, sometime.
7. Trust to nothing but God and hard work. Inscribe on your banner: "Luck is a fool; pluck is a hero."
8. Be punctual. Keep your appointment. Be there a minute before time if you have to miss a dinner to do it.
9. Be polite. Every smile, every gentle bow, is money in your pocket.
10. Be generous. Meanness makes enemies and breeds distrust.
11. Spend less than you earn. Do not run in debt. Watch the little leaks and you can live on your salary.
12. Make all the money you earn honestly, do all the good you can with it while you live, be your own executor.

How to Kill a Paper.
The following recipe for bringing about the demise of a local newspaper is offered by the editor of a western paper.
Just let the subscription go. It's only a dollar or two—the publisher doesn't need it.
If he asks for it, get as mad as you can and tell him to stop—it you never read it any way. Then go and borrow your neighbors.

When the reporters comes, always be busy. Make him feel as if he were intruding. When the advertising and job man comes, tell him you don't need to advertise—everybody knows you; that you will try and get along without any printed stationery. It is too expensive you must economize.
Never drop in and see the editor unless you want a free complimentary notice or a lengthy obituary of a beloved relative. Never recommend the paper to anybody. When you do speak of it, say "Yes, we have a little sheet, but it doesn't amount to much."
Keep it up for a year or two and you will have a dead newspaper, a dead set of merchants and a dead town.

New Baptist Church.
Work will be commenced in a few weeks to build the new Baptist Church. It will be of brick and located on Chestate Street. An opportunity will be given to every person living in Dahlonaga, both old and young, rich and poor, to contribute something to the erection of the new church. A subscription book will be found open at all times at the office of Price & Charter—where names and amount will be thankfully received.

A Home in the Country.

It is the bounden duty of every young man and every young woman to bear in mind that each is destined to have something to do in the establishing of a home. Even those to whom marriage does not come, must sooner or later realize the need for having a home. There must of necessity be a vast difference between the home of single life and that of married life, still a home there must be. With few exceptions, comparatively we repeat, that are debarrd from marriage, through physical and mental conditions or defects. The creator's intention is clearly that his creatures should "pair" after the manner of the birds. More or less is every one to be befitted who is disqualified for married life. Still to such life need not be a barren existence—far from it. And in this day and generation especially, it is not wise for the young to entertain the belief that a condition of wealth should attend upon marriage. It is very common to hear the assertion, "I will not marry until I am rich." Woe be unto the country where in such sentiments are masterful and widespread. The happiest homes, the homes most fruitful of blessing to a country have oftentimes been those who had their foundation in poverty, homes whose beginnings were crude and whose superstructure was slowly, perhaps painfully reared. But it was reared upon a foundation of love, hence in the end was very stable. Great soldiers, great statesmen, great lawyers, great doctors, great preachers, great merchants came out of such homes, even in the second generation and the country the republic was truly benefitted by these homes of humble beginnings. These plain, happy homes—through all the toil and deprivation—they are happy homes, where love and character are still nurtured as of old, are the firm foundations of a great and glorious republic. They are not to be scorned and discountenanced. Let them be multiplied by thousands.

Two Famous Log Cabins.

At the Tennessee Centennial Exposition are to be exhibited the old cabin birthplaces of two famous American citizens. These cabins are genuine, as certified by affidavits in possession of the owner and exhibitor.

The Rev. W. G. Bigham, a Methodist minister, while traveling a circuit which embraced parts of Todd and Hardin counties, Ky. bought the two log cabins and the land on which the stood. One of the cabins was built by Tom Lincoln, and in it he lived with his wife, Nancy Hanks. In this cabin, without a door, Abe Lincoln was born in the year 1809. Every log, except a few that did not withstand the ravages of time and the weather, is preserved.

The other cabin is one in which the President of the Confederacy was born. It came from near Fairview, Todd county, Ky. Mr. Davis was born here in 1808, and when 66 years old was given a banquet by old citizens of Fairview, in the very same cabin. In responding to a toast he referred to the fact that he had stood in the halls of the Montezumas, in the halls of Congress, and in other historic places in America and other countries, but none of these had stirred his emotions as much as when once again standing in the old cabin in which he was born.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, GA., MAY 21, 1897.

Corn and meal 65c per bushel at H. M. Co.

Miss Fannie Gaillard has returned from Gainesville.

Rev. Mr. Hunnicutt and lady have returned from Demorest.

Some one has been stealing John Tate's fodder out of his barn loft.

Jack Anderson got his case settled with the Pilgrum woman last week for fifteen dollars.

The nights are cool and the bud worms are playing havoc with the farmers corn in some places.

Rev. Mr. Boyd, of Hall county, preached an interesting sermon at the Baptist Church last Sunday.

There is no fodder to be had for love nor money, and hay has to be hauled from Gainesville to feed on.

Mr. W. J. Burt, one among the most prosperous business men in the county, was in from Burt'sboro last Monday.

Mrs. Baker and Mrs. Robert Meaders returned from Swainsboro-latter part of last weeks after an absence of several days.

We have an old song that was composed by a Lumpkin county gentleman over forty years ago, which we will publish soon.

We learn of many interesting meetings being held at various churches throughout the county. Let the good work continue.

We have just received a filling in line of shoes, and have a nice line of ladies' low cut shoes.

H. M. Co.
Butter sold at 15 cents per pound last Saturday and dull at that. When there is plenty of grass there is always plenty of butter.

The market here was stocked with meal latter part of last week. Merchants are now retailing corn and meal at from 60 to 70 cents per bushel.

Fulton Williams who is handling the peck measure and yard stick over at Gaddistown, was over to see us the other day and "dropped a dollar in the slot" for the Nugget.

Auraria is not being supplied with mail every day now, as the carrier turns off on yon side of the river and comes via Niesler's Ford, frequently leaving this post office out in the dark.

Mr. John Gamlin, one of Lumpkin's most prosperous farmers, was in Dahlonega last Monday. He informs us that on the 8th of this month he killed a hog weighing 280 pounds.

Mr. L. F. Christy was wedded to Miss B. Beasley last Sunday in the upper edge of the county by Rev. Millard Dowdy. They have our best wishes for a long and prosperous life.

There will quite likely be another lunacy trial in Lumpkin soon, as we understand that Mrs. Beard, residing in the upper portion of the county, who was sent to the asylum some years ago, has become insane again.

Judge Britain has been almost unable to get about for quite a number of days on account of a pain in his back, which struck him some days ago while stooping down dipping some water from the creek.

U. S. Deputy Marshal Harbison has always been very active since beginning his official career but he has been unusually so during the present year. When a change is made under the present administration they will loose the best officer they have in the service.

Those of our citizens who attended Yellow Creek meeting last Sunday state that the attendance was large, the preaching good and the congregation very attentive. There was no drinking nor loitering about during services but every body went and heard the minister and behaved themselves.

A full line of umbrellas, at H. M. Co.

Bids for the new bridge will be opened to-morrow.

Col. Price and Mr. H. D. Gurley both visited Atlanta last week on business.

A U. S. band from Atlanta will furnish music for the commencement exercises.

A lot of pickles, canned goods and fresh candies just received at Mrs. Mary Marlow's.

A complete program of the college exercises will be found on first page of today's paper.

Merchant Jones was over last Sunday from Wahoo on a visit to see some of the young ladies.

Remember the Nugget is no patent outside paper, but is all home print, mostly original matter.

The town was unusually quiet last Sunday owing to so many people attending meeting in the country.

Mr. J. K. Barton, of Codartown, Ga., an iron miner, spent several days in Dahlonega this and last week.

Col. J. H. Moore, after spending some two weeks at Nashville, taking in the great exposition, returned to Dahlonega last Friday.

John Whitner, an old Auraria citizen, was in our city last Friday. John is now mining in White county and meeting with success.

Mr. John Anderson was covered up at the Yahoola Mine last Friday by a cave but fortunately he was not injured any except being made sore.

One cause of but few country people in Dahlonega they get all the news through the Nugget and don't have to come to town to hunt it up.

Will sell cheap or swap for most anything, a buggy, surrey, carriage and wagon. All are in fair running order.

B. R. MEADERS & SONS.

Mr. Thomas Hooper, of Detroit, Mich., who has been in White for some time looking over the gold fields of that section, was registered at the Hall House last Friday.

Will Douglass went to sleep while attending services at the Methodist Church last Sunday evening and snored until he could be heard all over the house. Marshal Waters, who was present, got out his code of ordinances and after examining it and finding that there was no ordinance by which he could be punished, joined the choir and sang loud and loud in order to drown the noise made by the sleeper.

A few days ago Jake Postell visited some females in Yahoola district to have some stitching done on garments which he wished to rig up in and attend Yahoola Church last Sunday. While there Jake got on too much of the high band and exploded his mouth piece so fast and often that he got up a row in which chairs, rocks and sticks were used as weapons and Jacob lit out at the door, and at the same time the girls threw his bundle of sewing out in the yard where it remained a day or two. His three other companions remained and spent the evening in courtin'.

Mr. Geo. Burns, of New Bridge, came up last Friday and subscribed for the Nugget, and in doing so said that he had lost at least one hundred dollars this year by not taking it. Through a mistake his land had been sold for his taxes some time ago and he didn't know anything about it until the one that purchased it had been told that it belonged to Mr. Burns and he notified him of the fact, who came up and bought it back. He had paid all taxes and was very much surprised at it when notified of the transaction. Had he been taken the Nugget he could have appeared on sale day and showed his tax receipt and ended the matter. This should be a warning to all persons who are not already subscribers to this paper.

The Juvenile Society held interesting services at the Methodist church last Sunday evening.

On our first page will be found a beautiful piece of poetry composed by Miss Sallie Reid, of Yahoola district.

Mrs. Wm. Watkins died in Davis' district some days ago. She was a good kind woman, having been a member of the church for many years.

Our country friends should not wait until Saturday to bring their butter to town during warm weather as the market is generally stocked and it gets too old to have to keep it over until Monday.

Geo. Marlow, who went to Gainesville last week for Dr. Ham made the trip with his pony in three hours and a thirty-five minutes, a distance of twenty-five miles. This is almost as good speed as the first car invented made.

Bill Martin, residing in the lower part of the county, doesn't believe in signs about planting corn. He always plants his corn when he gets the ground ready. Those that "plant in the moon," says Bill, generally go about with their sacks under their arms hunting corn for sale.

Eli Howell was arrested last Sunday by the sheriff and confined in jail on a warrant sworn out by Alice Kays, charging him with assault and battery Saturday night—cutting her dress with a knife. They compromised the case Monday before noon and Eli was released.

People must remember that it is useless to ask us for the names of correspondents unless it is done in a legal manner. We don't tell all we know, if we were to we would have a murder or two and several suicides in Dahlonega in a single day. Being a mind reader gives us a big advantage over other editors.

We are informed that some of the people of Union county are opposed to citizens of this county, especially those favoring the stock law, sending their stock across the mountain eating out their range. Mr. A. J. Ash recently sent forty head over and several head have been killed and the tails cut off of many of the others.

Mr. W. J. Worley, while on a visit to Chestatee district last week found a shoe last made from stone near Mr. Caleb Seabolt, supposed to be the work of some Indian that has long since passed away to that happy hunting ground. Mr. Seabolt says he used to see them have their green corn dances where his field is now located.

Many of our citizens attended services at Yahoola and Yellow Creek last week. Some parties misbehaved so badly at Yahoola as to cause the minister to take down their names for the purpose of prosecuting them next court. People should learn to behave at church else stay away. Judge Kinney will likely teach them a lesson which they will always remember.

David Coleman and Oscar Anderson, both of Dawson county, were arrested in an illicit distillery last week by Marshal Harbison and Walker. The fifteen year old boy, the man, two guns and the still were brought to town where they were bound over by Commissioner Baker. John Brice, of the same county, was also found running one and received the same attention as the others.

Down at Etowah church last Sunday quite a good joke was played off on Jim Martin. Several of the boys were there without any dinner after services. Jim Welch told a half dozen or more of them to go up to Jim Martin's wagon as he had plenty of victuals and would be there to wait on them. When they reached the wagon Martin was not there and they found his ration basket and assisted themselves. When the owner of the wagon returned his dinner was all gone which made him pretty mad for awhile.

Col. Bell, of Atlanta was in the city this week on business.

We are headquarters for tools of all kinds. H. M. Co.

The question now is who will be the next deputy marshal at Dahlonega?

Strawberries are getting ripe which is good news to all country editors.

Our farmers and laborers have had beautiful weather to work for several weeks and have lost no time.

Mrs. Wm. Gaddis, residing in Davis' district, died a few days ago and was buried at the expense of the county.

Several visitors from Atlanta and other places have been spending some days in Dahlonega during the last week or two.

There is no healthier place on the globe than Dahlonega. So if you wish to enjoy good health and a delightful climate come to the golden city of the mountains.

One or more persons who returned drunk from Yahoola meeting last Sunday, were unable to go to work Monday and their places were filled by other men and they lost their jobs.

John Moore attended Yellow Creek meeting last Sunday, in company with a beautiful young lady of Dahlonega. He devoured so much dinner that he has been on the puny list ever since.

Mr. G. E. Reeves, residing in the lower portion of the county, informed us Monday that he killed two pilots close to his premises last week. The one found in his yard measured five feet and the other three.

Mr. C. Will Fisher, of Demorest, gave us a pleasant call last Tuesday. Mr. Fisher is located here for awhile taking pictures. If there is an ugly young man that wants a pretty picture for his girl give this gentleman a call.

Mr. Newt Satterfield locks his smoke house secure ever since some one entered it some time ago and carried away three hams, three middlings and two shoulders of meat. It was certainly a bold theft as whoever did it had to pass through his yard in order to get to the smoke house.

Miss Lila Cain's school is out to day and the pupils will enjoy a picnic to-morrow. Miss Lizzie Chapman's class next Thursday and the little ones will be given a picnic the same day. Both of these ladies have been teaching in Dahlonega for several years and have never failed to give satisfaction to the general public that we have heard of.

The parties that were on ex-tax collector Walker's state bond had a meeting here last Saturday and found that they would have to raise $29.80 each to foot the bill of four hundred and some odd dollars. Some of them deposited the money with Moore & McGuire until today to see if all could raise the amount. If not they withdrew the amount and all bear the burden alike, when the comptroller is sued a fi fa against the collector and his sureties, which will increase the amount thirty per cent.—ten per cent. attorneys fees and twenty per cent. interest.

The Dahlonega boys and college cadets had a game of ball last Monday afternoon in which the cadets were the winners. We know nothing about ball playing and therefore were not on hand, but learn that it was very interesting. When we went to school we were not allowed to play dangerous games, climb trees nor "skin the cat," but now it is very different as we see the legislature is often called upon for money to build "skinning cat places" at the university and the next thing you know they will call on the State to appropriate money for a ball outfit. No, we know nothing about "innings" and "outings" except when we were small and our mother struck us in the back with the battling stick, we moved and called it "out."

All subscribers papers are discontinued when their times expire.

We are informed that Mr. Homer Strickland has accepted a job and will return to Dahlonega in a few days.

We do not propose to publish long winded communications when we are aware that there is not a word of truth in them.

Mrs. Corrie Norris, of Valdosta, arrived in Dahlonega yesterday who will probably spend the summer with her parents here.

No smarter woman reside on the globe than in Lumpkin county. It is no unusual thing to go out in the country and see females plowing and hoeing corn.

Porter Springs will soon be opened up for the season and everything will present a lively appearance this summer at the Queen of the Mountains as usual.

It seems that James Tate prefers to live in the country as he has knocked the dust of Dahlonega from his feet and gone back up in Chestatee district and opened up a store.

Mr. Clem Cox, who has been an engineer on the W. & A. R. R. for twenty-five years, was in Dahlonega and the guest of Capt. J. W. Woodward a day or two this week.

Two brothers, Harve and John Stancel, of Chestatee district, were bound over for blockading last Tuesday. The Commissioner here has averaged about one case a day since our last issue.

Capt. Meredith and a couple more revenue raiders are up with this week. They have been in White and other counties and destroyed several large distilleries since the Captain was here only a few days ago.

Andy Tankesley, after paying us a dollar Tuesday said he liked the Nugget better every week he read it. It is just like a young man going to see his girl. He will get so after awhile he can't get along without her and will take her in by and by.

We learn that Mr. W. C. Van Patton and Mr. O. H. Hall, who have been in the employ of the Hall Mds Co. for quite awhile, will depart for their homes in the North first of next month. Both have many friends in Dahlonega who regret to see them take their departure.

There is a young man in Dahlonega that is a regular female charmer. Last Sunday he made arrangements to go to Yellow Creek with several young ladies but didn't get suited until he came to the fifth one and lit out, leaving the other four behind very much disappointed.

Last Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock Mr. James H. Richey, of Chattahoochee, was married to Miss Melly Bird, of Dahlonega, Rev. W. T. Hunnicutt performing the ceremony, in the presence of only a few special friends, soon after which the happy couple departed for Tennessee. The bride and groom had not met since they went to school in Cherokee county five years ago, but had kept up a correspondence, having been engaged about three years. We extend to them our best wishes for a long, happy and prosperous life.

The new Dahlonega postmaster was appointed last Monday and Judge J. C. Britain received the joyful tidings the following day that he was the lucky man. Col. Farrow favored Capt. Ingersoll and Tom Blodgett wanted Mr. H. F. Anderson but Col. Buck was given his choice. The office will be moved to the Burnside House next door to where the Judge resides, being one of the most convenient places, giving no one any room to complain about its location. The Judge is one of our oldest citizens and has a host of friends who congratulate him in his success of being able to pluck a plum that only ripens every four years. We understand that W. P. Price, Jr., will be assistant postmaster.

Mr. Leory Pitner now occupies the Brown house.

Three cans of tomatoes for 20c at H. M. Co.

Mr. Loony, who has an interest in the Mary Henry mine, is expected here this week.

Mr. Hutson, of Gainesville, is here getting ready to make the brick for the Baptist church.

The revenue officials went out and searched for a still that was reported to be in the loft of old man Davis Grizzle's yesterday, but didn't find it. Jake Prewitt's house was also searched.

From a letter we learn that Mr. Lewis Ralson, formerly of Lumpkin county, but now of the Indian Territory is expected to die. He was bitten by a mad dog on one of his legs which he afterwards had amputated.

The bids yesterday for carrying Moses Hamilton to the asylum are as follows: J. M. Brookshire $31.73, Albert Wholechel $26.45, M. J. Williams $27.27, Frank Lowrey $27.75, T. S. Littlefield $35.00, D. M. Grizzle $30.00. Wholechel's is the lowest bid and he will start the boy today.

Rev. Mr. Hunnicutt, of Dahlonega recently closed one of the most interesting meetings ever held in Demorest. After the ministers meeting had wound up its business he preached twice a day for six days, which resulted in many conversions and twenty-five additions to the church which proves that the ministers efforts were not in vain by no means.

The revenue officers visited Dawson county last Wednesday and found Ed. Newberry, his wife and ten year old boy in an illicit distillery, together with his nephew Will Newberry. Ed and Will were brought to Dahlonega and had a hearing before Com. Baker, when William was released and the man was bound over. The man and his wife seem to be teaching their children "the way they want them to go."

Some days ago Dr. I. W. Waddell tendered his resignation as president of the N. G. A. College at Dahlonega. Since that time a committee from the board of trustees visited Atlanta and offered the position to Prof. W. M. Slaton, principal of the Boys' High School of that city, and one of the best known educators in the south. The Professor has not yet given a definite answer but is considering the matter for a few days first.

After being absent from the office a short time Thursday of last week we were told that Ashbury Beck had been looking in every nook and corner for the Nugget editor, carrying in one hand a poisonous tomahawk and in the other a two edged sword. Soon after our arrival he appeared in the office and informed us that we must make a correction—that it wasn't him that got Colonel Hand's toll corn but he had been told that it was Ashbury Butler. After assuring him that we would make the necessary repairs on his wounded feelings he went away happy. Before doing so, however, he informed us that Head and Butler settled the matter without a church trial for fear it might end in the revenue courts.

The case of Hall, Meaders, Tate and others vs. F. M. Williams, complaint, goes to the Supreme Court. This is the case against Capt. Williams of which many of our readers are familiar, being the one in which it is claimed that he changed receipts for fees during his administration as ordinary of Lumpkin county, having been in litigation for some time. At the last term of the court the plaintiffs through their attorneys, submitted the case to his honor, Judge J. J. Kinsey, who allowed them the sum of $454.50 against the defendant. The defendant and his attorneys are dissatisfied with the decision is why the case takes this course. Messrs. Price & Charters, Boyd & Lilly and Baker represent the defendant, while Col. Dean, of Gainesville, represents the plaintiffs.

CONDITION OF THE CROPS.

Increase in the Cotton Acreage—Heavy Rain Retard Crop.

COTTON.

The reports from the different sections of the state would indicate an increase of from 5 to 10 per cent in the acreage of this crop. Planting from ten to 30 days late. Not enough yet up to indicate the stand. That already up (in the lower portion of the state) looking badly from the unusually cool nights. Long continued wet weather all over the state has caused a good deal of delay in farming operations, and I fear that much land will be planted with but very poor preparation.

The acreage is reported as about the same as last year, with preparation not so good. In some counties in South and Southwest Georgia corn has had to be replanted on account of the excessive rainfall, by which many fields were completely drowned out. Land in many cases poorly prepared, because of the time lost by continued rains.

OATS.

The acreage 10 per cent greater than last year, and the condition very much better. Quite 50 per cent of the oat crop was sowed late fall, and as nearly all of it escaped winter killings, there is a good prospect for a fine crop.

WHEAT.

More wheat planted than for several years past. The crop is reported as looking unusually well, but I fear it will yet be seriously injured by rust, which is reported from several counties in the middle and lower portions of the state. No rust yet reported from North Georgia, where wheat is largely planted.

PEACHES.

The reports vary very much as regards peaches, ranging from 10 per cent in some counties up to a full crop in others. After a careful study of reports, I conclude that the shipment of peaches from Georgia this season will be light, while there will be plenty for home consumption. The same may be said of pears. Apples and grapes promise a full crop. Plums, cherries and strawberries are all more or less injured, but will make fair crops.

STOCKS.

The report on stock of all kinds, as regards both condition and numbers, compares favorably with last year, showing a slight increase. No diseases reported, except cholera among hogs, which is doing much damage in a few counties.

THE FARMER'S BOY.

The boy on the farm is just about the same kind of a boy you will find everywhere. He is susceptible to the same influences, and given the same opportunity, he will accomplish about the same results as his fellow in the town or city. With practice this to his advantage. The farmer boy is nearer to nature's great heart and comes to understand her ways; and again, the solitude of the farm gives him opportunity for communion with self, if he is a thinking boy, to come to better understanding with himself and to know his powers and limitations better than his urban prototype.

Boys everywhere need the stimulus of self interest, and this is too often denied them on the farm. What he does goes into the general fund, as it were, and he does not see how much he is doing to swell it. If the farmer would keep his boy on the farm and make him a factor in its successful operations; fit the young man to take his place and carry on the work when he is gone, or keep him from seeking a home and fortune out in the great world so full of doubt and uncertainty, he should at an early period of the boy's career give him something to do for himself, the returns from which will be his own.

If the farmer raises sheep, then a few well bred sheep; if horses and cattle, some colts and a cow or two; if near a market a coop of nice chickens, or a garden plot for his own cultivation—something that shall be the boy's own property and that he returns from which shall be his to do with as he will. Not only will he grow in independence and learn for himself the lessons of failure and success, he will have an enthusiasm for the work in hand, which of itself will be a guarantee of success; without which life itself, in its best sense, is a failure, and a vexed problem in many homes will be forever settled.—Exchange.

What, Soil Cotton and Corn.

QUESTIONS—How much in pounds of the three fertilizers—nitrogen, phosphoric acid and potash—are taken from the soil per acre by a crop of 10 bushels of wheat; how much by a crop of 1,200 pounds of seed cotton, and by ten bushels of corn.

ANSWERS.—A crop of 10 bushels of wheat will take from the soil 12 pounds of nitrogen, 6 pounds of phosphoric acid and 3.95 pounds of potash. Should you take off of the land at the same time 1,200 pounds of straw, there would be taken from the soil an additional 6 pounds of nitrogen, 2.65 pounds of phosphoric acid and 9 pounds of potash, besides 3.43 pounds of lime and 2.63 pounds of chlorine.

In a crop of 1,200 pounds of seed cotton per acre there will be taken from the soil 29.39 pounds of nitrogen, 10.36 pounds of phosphoric acid and 10.69 pounds of potash; in addition to these should be added 4.35 of lime. Most of these elements are contained in the seed, the lint containing no nitrogen, only a trace of phosphoric acid and a very small amount of potash.

In a crop of 10 bushels of corn, including the stalk as well as the ear, there is taken from the soil 14 pounds of nitrogen, 6 pounds of acid phosphate and 12 pounds of potash.—State Agricultural Department.

TEACHERS EXAMINATION.
The next teachers examination will be held at Dahlonega the last Saturday in May, 1897. The questions will be taken from the following books: Page's Theory and Practice of Teaching, White's School Management, Parker's Talks on Teaching and Outlines of Methods, the same that was used last year. Arrangements for holding the Institute have not yet been completed.
J. J. SEABOLT, C. S. C.

THE NEW WAY.

WOMEN used to think "female diseases" could only be treated after "local examinations" by physicians. Dread of such treatment kept thousands of women silent about their suffering. The introduction of Wine of Cardui has now demonstrated that nine-tenths of all the cases of menstrual disorders do not require a physician's attention at all. The simple, pure McElree's Wine of Cardui taken in the privacy of a woman's own home insures quick relief and speedy cure. Women need not hesitate now. Wine of Cardui requires no humiliating examinations for its adoption. It cures any disease that comes under the head of "female troubles"—disordered menses, falling of the womb, "whites," change of life. It makes women beautiful by making them well. It keeps them young by keeping them healthy. $1.00 at the drug store.

For advice in cases requiring special directions, address, send specimens to the "Ladies' Advisory Department," The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

W. E. ANDERSON, M.D., Gary, Miss., says: "I use Wine of Cardui extensively in my practice and find it most excellent preparation for female troubles."

The Happy Sailor.
Come, tell of your ship and what is her name,
Oh tell me happy sailor.
And tell of your captain and what is his name,
Oh tell me happy sailor.
She's the old ship of Zion, hallaluh, hallaluh,
And her captain 's Judas lion, hallaluh.

Come, tell of your crew and whence did they come,
Oh tell me happy sailor.
Say, why do you lead them away from their home,
Oh tell me happy sailor.
They are chosen, called holy, hallaluh, hallaluh,
And have left the land of folly, hallaluh.

Say, is her keel sound and her bark well stoned,
Oh tell me happy sailor.
And will she receive other comrades on board,
Oh tell me happy sailor.
Come on board, the vessel's stronger, hallaluh, hallaluh.

But first let me know when on board I am found,
Oh tell me happy sailor.
The name of your fort your vessel is bound,
Oh tell me happy sailor.
We seek a fort in heaven, hallaluh, hallaluh,
Bright crowns will there be given, hallaluh.

But will you not fear when the ocean waves roar,
Oh tell me happy sailor.
That you may all be lost and never gain shore,
Oh tell me happy sailor.
Our captain rules the ocean, hallaluh, hallaluh.

But will you not fear when you ride over the sea,
Oh tell me happy sailor.
And what in the ship your employment will be,
Oh tell me happy sailor.
We will sing the song of Zion, hallaluh, hallaluh,
And keep her colors flying, hallaluh.

But will you not fear when you ride over the main,
Oh tell me happy sailor.
Some foe may engage and you all may be slain,
Oh tell me happy sailor.
We fear no cannon's racket, hallaluh, hallaluh,
Our ship never lost a battle, hallaluh.

But what will you do when you gain heaven's door,
Oh tell me happy sailor.
Your voyage at an end, your fear is all over,
Oh tell me happy sailor.
We'll repeat the pleasing story, hallaluh, hallaluh,
And sing and shout in glory, hallaluh.

—By W. H. Thomas.
Milwaukee Herald: "Have you noticed the handsome advertisement I had put on yonder fence?" inquired a merchant of one of his customers recently. "No," replied the latter, "but if you will send the fence to my house I will take pleasure in reading it. I read newspapers and have no time to run about and hunt up advertisements on street corners." And the merchant scratched the back of his head reflectively.

TWO CHARACTERS OF MAN.
Rev. W. C. Richardson Writes a Very Interesting Letter.

The usual space allotted in a newspaper to correspondents will not afford room, nor have I time, for amplification of the subjects presented; much is therefore left for the thoughtful reader to supply.
To know ourselves is fundamental, and the first principle in the philosophy of life, especially religious life. To study self in the light of the Bible is distasteful, as is introduction to a very unlovely and deformed person. It was a killing blow to St. Paul to be introduced to himself by the law of God; so, it is at first to us all. The whole head sick, the heart faint, going forth or astray from the womb speaking lies, the heart deceitful and desperately wicked. Treasuring up wrath against the day of wrath, a sinner, a wreck, a body of death.

It is the office of the Bible to teach us what we don't want to know, yet what we can't deny, and what the Holy Spirit impresses on our hearts as truth infallible. Our observation and experience teach us that as face answers to face in a glass, so aptly does the Bible describe our natural and moral condition. Yet in seeking light and rules by which to control and govern our lives, no other book is so much neglected. There are many who readily accept all the Bible teaches concerning the character of God and His adorable attributes, but deny His instruction or teaching concerning the character of man; which denial stands as the strongest evidence of their alienation from Him and pitiable orphanage in the world, without hope, filled with poverty and darkness, loving darkness rather than light because their deeds are evil. Such are they who deny the natural proclivity of our race, to live in guilt and sin, taking pleasure in unrighteousness. How great and alarming is the contrast between man and his Maker, one is the Almighty God, the first and best of all beings, delighting Himself in all goodness and mercy. Glorious in Holiness, fearful in praises, creating a universe and filling it with every variety of object and splendor to please thyself, fill the ear and move the heart to love and worship. Making man his own image, crowning him as he rises from the dust with reason and understanding, locating his habitation and planting a garden in which they would hold evening talks and enjoy mutual friendship. The caution God gave to man was obey and live or refuse and die. Soon an evil hour came in which he yielded to the temptation of the devil sanctioned by his wife, and disobeyed the command given them, and the next time they heard the voice of God they were afraid and hid themselves. But none can hide from God. He marked their sin, their peace was lost, their home was ruined, the flowers of Eden faded, its borders hung with thorns and thistles, they left it reluctantly, were driven out with earth cursed before them to resist their labor. Thorns and thistle must be dug up before wheat and barley will grow. See them bent down with the weight of their sentence as they move out before the flaming sword, which turned every way. Adam with such poignancy of sorrow and guilt and Eve, his wife, first in the transgression, begett of all but one solitary sentiment, a desire to her husband who should rule over her, and in anguish perpetuate her race and modify the criticism that the threatened penalty was not inflicted. Spiritually they did die, physically a short probation or suspension was mercifully granted that men might be prepared for death which is certainly coming. For sin has entered into the world and death by sin, and death has passed on all for all sinned.

W. C. RICHARDSON.
Nothing is Ever Sold.

In Bainbridge, Goughaga county O., not far from Cleveland is the queerest store one ever sees. Bainbridge is a small hamlet but the store is as large and well stocked as the average suburban store. It is kept—that is precisely the word for it—by and old widower who has no relatives in that section of country and is practically a hermit. When the civil war began he was running a flourishing general store in Bainbridge, and made money rapidly during the succeeding four years. When peace was declared prices, which had been greatly inflated, took a sudden drop. The old fellow believed that this would be followed by a boom which would send prices skyward again, and refused to sell his goods for less than they cost him. Down went the prices—down down, down—and finally he was forced to close his store for want of purchasers.

Today his store stands almost exactly as it did thirty years ago. It is stocked with such goods as are usually found in country stores, but of course, the stock is now practically worthless.

Every day the old man opens up the place to give it an airing. He is there, too, for business, if any one chooses to buy what he has to sell, and is willing to pay what he asks.

"Why, sir," he says, "some of the calicoes I've got cost me sixty five cents a yard in 1867. Wouldn't I be a fool to sell it for five cents?"

Mighty Good Advice.

Fight your own battles, my young friends; for in this way you rise to the grand conviction that honor is to be preferred to life. The craven hearted never understand this. Their timidity causes them to shrink from exposure to pain, and to them the most sacred of all duties is to take care of their precious persons. If they run behind their mother's aprons when ever there is danger, or whenever it is imagined, and if they put their big brothers perpetually between themselves and assailants, they will probably not be too nice on the subject of integrity in future years. Youth of today, a new century will be yours tomorrow. In a few more years its light, that shall fall on our graves, will shine on your upward and onward path. But if you would be equal to its opportunities and rewards, get rid of your timidity now. Arm yourself with courage and strike down the evils and foes that are ambushed in your own souls. Spare not yourselves. See that treason lurks not in the citadel. Then array your resources, the strength of your intellect, the vigor of your will, and the unflinching loyalty of an honest purpose against corruption, superstition, and the debauching of the public intellect whatever may be the cost whatever of immediate sacrifice or of suffering, do your duty confident that God will defend the right.—Dr. George C. Lorimer.

Dum Vivimus Vivamus.

Do not keep the alabaster box of your love tenderness sealed up until your friends are dead. Fill their lives with sweetness. Speak approving, cheering words while their ears can hear them, and while their hearts can be thrilled and made happier by them. The kind things you mean to say when they are gone, say before they go. The flowers you mean to send for their coffin, send to brighten and sweeten their homes before they leave them. If my friends have alabaster box laid away full of fragrant perfumes of sympathy and affection, which they intend to break over my dead body, I would rather they would bring them out in my weary and troubled hours, and open them, that I may be refreshed and cheered by them while I need them. I would rather have a plain coffin without a flower a funeral without eulogy, than a life without the sweetness of love and sympathy. Let us learn to anoint our friends beforehand for their burial. Post-mortem kindness does not cheer the burdened spirit. Flowers on the coffin cast no fragrance backward over the weary way.

Judge and Jury.

An exchange tells a story of a well known judge who is noted for his fondness for conveying in his charges to jurors, his own opinions in regard to the merits of the case in hand. Recently, in giving such a charge, he expressed his views very plainly, but to his amazement the jury remained out for some hours.

The judge inquired of the officer what was the matter, and learned from him that one juror was holding out against the other eleven. He sent for the jury at once, and stating to the jurors that he had plainly intimated how the case ought to be decided, said he understood that one juror was standing out against the other eleven. He proceeded to rebuke the juror sharply.

The obstinate juror, as it happened, was a nervous little man, and as soon as the judge was done, he arose and said:

"Your honor, may I say a word?"
"Yes, sir," said the indignant judge: "what have you to say?"
"Well, what I wanted to say is, I am the only fellow that's on your side."

What Pleases a Woman.

It pleases her to be called a sensible little woman.
It pleases her to be called a well-dressed woman.

It pleases her to be told that she is fascinating.
It pleases her to be told that she improves a man by her companionship.

It pleases her to depend on some man and pretend she is ruling him.

It pleases her to be treated courteously and with respect, and to be talked to reasonably.

It pleases her to be treated sensibly and honestly, to be consulted and questioned and not to be treated as a battery, with no head or heart.

It pleases her to be loved and admired by a man who is strong enough to rule and subdue her and make his way her way, to lead her and take care of her.—Answers.

The Butler Street YMCA Is Rendering a Valuable Service to Our Negro Youths

By RAIMUNDO DE OVIES

NEGRO BOYS, and there are a great many in Atlanta, will soon become citizens. What kind of citizens depends upon several circumstances, one of which is the attitude we white citizens assume towards them, the help we give them in developing character. Another is the work of the Butler st. YMCA and its extension services in southwest Atlanta, northeast Atlanta, West Side, College Park and Marietta. There is no more effective character building agency among boys of both races than the YMCA.

The Butler st. "Y" has served 6,748 boys under teen age; 2,472 teenagers, 1,147 young men and over a thousand adults. Anyone familiar with what the YMCA does will appreciate what these services mean. They take in the church and the nonchurched with a broad and co-operative program.

I addressed a huge meeting of such boys and "YW" girls about a year ago in the Wheat Street Baptist church. Their extraordinarily fine behaviour and eager attention were probably due to their dearth of other privileges. At any rate, this large group of Negro boys and girls were an inspiration for any speaker interested in youth.

As a "minister of the gospel" I believe that the gospel is not limited in its appeal or in its services to all humanity. The "churches" are divided. The "Y" is one in its services and the emphasis is on service.

This month a campaign has been begun to secure funds to make this service, broader and more effective. James C. Malone, George Winship, Julian Harrison, Hal S. Dumas and Russell Bellman agree fully with me in this. They are heading the drive. Help them!

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, GA., MAY 28, 1897.

Cregon at Hall Mds Co.

Beef cattle and sheep wanted by L. W. Cochran.

A few more nice straw hats at Hall Mds Co.

The new Baptist Church to be built in Dahlonega will be 40x60 feet.

Old man Free, father of Ransom Free, residing at Auraria, is quite sick and not expected to live.

Col. W. P. Price goes to the upper portion of the county next Sunday to deliver a Sunday School address.

Hon. H. H. Perry, of Gainesville will deliver the literary address at the commencement of the N. G. A. College.

Job lot of ladies percale shirt waists at H. D. Gurley's, 50 and 60 cents each, being cheaper than manufacturers prices.

We learn that a big singing takes place at Oak Grove next Sunday which will attract a large crowd of people to that place.

Grif. Davis, who lives in the lower part of the county and who broke his leg this spring one year ago, is able to plow some now.

John Wade, who has been gone to South Carolina for some time engaged in the mining business, has returned to his old home near Auraria, together with his wife.

Will sell cheap or swap for most anything, a buggy, surrey, carriage and wagon. All are in fair running order.

B. R. MEADERS & SONS.

Two street lamps have been put up on our end of town and now the bright light of one shines upon the Nugget offices which enables us to show our good works by night as well as by day.

Some of the Sabbath School boys were very much disappointed last Sabbath at the Elrod harbor, in Auraria district, where they expected to hear Dick Williamson preach his first sermon.

Our friend John Tate, of Willow, spent a few hours in Dahlonega last Sunday. John is a weed killer and a corn raiser and never wears a paper collar and tooth pick shoes when he comes to town and therefore never puts on any airs.

Mr. Homer Strickland is here and is again in charge of the books at the Hall Mds Co. He is one of "the" boys and we are glad of his return, for there is no young man that has more friends in Lumpkin county than Homer Strickland.

Tom Brown, col., was aroused from his slumbers in White county Tuesday night and escorted to Dahlonega by Deputy Marshal Harbison and asked to show cause why he had been violating the revenue law. He will have to continue his journey to Atlanta.

We are informed that on last Monday evening James Adams came down in town contrary to his wife's wishes, and when he returned she closed the door and gave him a severe whipping with a big switch. The licks could be heard by the neighbors for some distance. You generally hear of the man whipping the wife, but in this case it is to the reverse.

Judging from the appearance of Narcissa Stephens, col., who was going down the street the other afternoon with an umbrella stretched over her head singing "Oh won't that be a happy meeting," at the top of her voice, that she is going to organize a salvation army in Dahlonega. She is an excellent instructress as she went to Capt. Woodward's the other day where her son Nez is engaged at work, and instructed the cook how to feed her boy so as not to injure his health, which was to give him beef steak for breakfast and dinner with sweetened coffee, and light bread and preserves with "store" tea for supper.

Meal at 60 cents per bushel at B. R. Meaders and Sons.

Two pounds of fresh mullet at New Commissary for 15 cents.

Those who have not returned their property to the tax receiver should remember today is his last day.

Mr. Chas. Walden was married last Monday evening to Miss Lizzie, daughter of Mr. James Sullins, in Wahoo district, Esq. Wm. Brown officiating.

We are informed that John A. Parker, who went from this place to the Indian Territory some years ago, is selling out for the purpose of returning to Atlanta on account of his bad health.

Mr. E. F. Jackson became sick while working in the mines the other day and gave out before he reached home. His son went after him with a buggy and was not long in having him with his old gray hared companion at home. The old man has seen too many summers to be able to work in the mines any more.

Wm. Beck, residing in Auraria district, came near getting killed last Friday while hauling a load of fodder. The tie rope broke causing him and the fodder to fall at the heads of the mules. They began to kick one striking him on the left cheek bone, knocking out a tooth and bruising up his face in a frightful manner. He came to town and had Dr. Chapman to dress the wound.

The members of the church in the upper portion of the county recently pieced up a nice quilt each for Revs. Gilbreath and Carder, and now they are making one for Rev. S. H. Waters. The divine will quite likely appreciate the gift as he lives away up in the mountains where it is even cool in the summer time and requires plenty of just such household goods to keep him comfortable.

Recently at Yahoola Church Rev. S. M. Grizzle in a Sunday School speech opposed all religious literature and religious training of children. He seemed to think that none but believers should attend Sunday School. We guess he thinks a lecture from him is worth more than good instructive literature. It is a little singular that men who profess to be christians and ministers of the gospel will have any such foolish talk.

The other day Marshal Harbison, while going out on a raid saw a man with something on his shoulder standing talking to a negro in the road near Dahlonega. Before the officer reached him he made for the woods faster than if an enemy had been firing hot shot at him. His queer actions were soon explained and the man's name ascertained. It was James Bryant, the county surveyor, who, if he had his surveying instrument, carried it in a jug, and did not have it rigged up properly to meet a revenue officer.

The board of trustees unanimously elected Mr. Oscar Palmour, of Dawson county as adjunct teacher in the N. G. A. College at a regular meeting last Monday. Mr. Palmour is a graduate of this institution and is one of the brightest young men in the State. His many friends here are glad to know that he has succeeded in getting this position which will eventually lead to something higher, as he is a young man of great energy and all the time pressing forward. He spent a day or two in our city last week.

Prof. W. M. Slaton, of Atlanta, didn't accept the presidency of the N. G. A. College recently tendered him, and the board of trustees now has its eyes cast in another direction. The names of the following able instructors have been suggested to the local board, one of whom will probably be selected by the same and recommended to the University board to elect. Possibly other names will be placed before the local board for its consideration yet. The two suggested now are Prof. W. S. Wilson, of Savannah, and Prof. Kilpatrick, of Tennessee.

A good suit of clothes at Moore & McGuire from 75c up.

Some gentlemen from Union county have set up a feather renovator near the Dahlonega camp ground.

No trouble to get fat now as eggs are going at eight cents per dozen, honey eight cents per lb. and grown hens eighteen cents a piece.

In a few more days the college bell will cease to ring and the students will return to their respective homes until the first Monday in September.

We understand that several parties visited Mill Creek church last Sunday with well charged bottles of mountain dew but fortunately everything passed off quietly.

Col. Price expects to visit the Tennessee Exposition on the 24th of June, being confederate veterans day. He will also remain over until Georgia's day, the 26th.

Samuel Goodluck went down to Atlanta last week and secured the services of Marra Haywood to teach the children of his race at Dahlonega. His school will open next Monday.

"Uncle" John Carder, aged 84 was baptized at Pleasant Hill last Sunday. The old man is perfectly blind, having had both eyes knocked out by falling limbs and is certainly a pitiful looking sight.

The ordinary requests us to state that he had nothing to do with the making of the ford at New Bridge. It was made from funds donated by interested citizens. So, if any one has any business across the river down that way they will have no trouble crossing the Chestate unless the stream is swollen.

Mayor Gaston, of Gainesville, spent a day or two in the city this week with his relatives. Our citizens are always glad to have a visit from the Judge as he never puts on airs, and is just as familiar with the boys as he used to be when he lived here while a lad and threw rotten eggs and played rock fights, which were then the amusements of the day.

Well, well, Brother McNolley got hot under the collar because we furnished our readers with a little sketch of the gentleman recently and cut us from his exchange list. We are happy to be able to get along without his paper and promise our readers that they shall not suffer because the News has ceased to visit the Nugget office and will shed no tears at its loss for we could scarcely get rid of it in Dahlonega for wrapping paper.

Mr. A. J. Ash was in town last week getting signers to a petition stating that he "had been a life long republican" and asking that he be appointed U. S. Deputy Marshal to be located somewhere in the 9th Congressional District. Mr. Ash used to be one of the leading blockaders of the mountains and fortunately saw the folly of his way after many years and quit the business before it broke him up. If Mr. Ash succeeds in getting the place he will certainly understand the ropes.

We understand that there would have been a wedding near town Sunday had the would be groom been able to secure the money to buy the license. Robt. Beck and Georgia Forest are the couple that would like to have some minister to set their hearts moving as one. Bob proposed to pond his coat for the license money but the season is most too warm for any one to lay in an additional supply of coats therefore the money could not be supplied for the tying of the nuptial knot. Bob is a lucky wife catcher, as he has already been married three times, one of his wives living in less than two miles of Dahlonega now. How it is that a woman is willing to take a countless man for her life mate and start out on a bridal tour with him in his shirt sleeves we confess that we are at a loss to know.

Mrs. W. A. Charters is off on a visit to Milldegeville.

One pound of Clover Baking Powders at New Commissary for ten cents.

Best grade of fish hooks at B. R. Meaders & Sons at 4 cents per hundred.

Mr. Joseph McGee went across the mountain this week and spent several days with the old folks at home.

Stephen Rice robbed four stands of bees the other night and got one hundred pounds of honey. This almost induces us to quit the printing business and go to raising bees.

The boys always have to have a little fun just before commencement, therefore our citizens were not very much alarmed Tuesday evening when they heard the college bell ringing and the roar of the cannon.

Mr. R. C. Wood, of DeFuniak, Fla., is here on a two or three days visit. Mr. Wood recently optioned his property in this county to a company for $5,000, one thousand having already been paid and the rest is due on the 20th of June.

Our citizens will regret to learn of the death of Mrs. Thomas R. Lombard, which occurred at Worcester, Mass., on the 18th inst. Mr. Lombard and his wife lived in Dahlonega several years ago, and while here lost a bright eyed little child which was buried in Mt. Hope Cemetery. Now, after a separation of many years the little one and its mother have met together in that bright world on high where trouble is not known, to await the arrival of relatives.

The other evening a laborer was asked by his employer how long it had been since he had taken a drink of liquor. "More than twelve months," was the answer. "Then," said the employer, "go and tell the merchant to let you have the finest pair of shoes he has in his store and charge them to me." This is another evidence that it is always best not to use any liquor only for medical purposes, and then not at all yourself to prescribe the medicine. If you do you will be apt to get sick too often.

It is thought that Harve Anderson's dog has gone mad in the far end of town. The other evening it acted in such a manner as to scare Harve and left with its tongue sticking out of its mouth and the dog has not been heard of since. Harve would have shot it but since Judge Kinsey commenced charging the boys so much for carrying pistols this negro threw his away, quit drinking liquor, only on rare occasions, and joined the church and now can sing as good and seems to enjoy himself as well as the rest of the members.

The sheriff came up from Carroll last Tuesday and arrested Mr. S. E. White, who has been in Dahlonega but a few weeks, on a charge of selling liquor. We are reliably informed that it was done through malice on the part of some enemies in that section because he sustained a young ladies character which they were trying to break down. He is a man that doesn't drink liquor but falls out with no one that does. A friend down there asked him where he could find some liquor and he told him but had nothing else to do with it. Mr. White made bond.

Mr. W. A. Butler, of Cincinnati, Ohio, spent a day or two in the city this week. Mr. Butler had visited the Nashville exposition and while in Atlanta thought he would come up to Dahlonega and see some of the gold mines of which he had heard so much about, thinking that the reports about them had been mostly newspaper "puffs." But after a careful inspection was very much surprised, being thoroughly convinced that the half had not been told. Mr. Butler is a newspaper man himself and will now be able to give his readers an account of what he saw with his own eyes, which will be of great benefit to our section, as this gentleman has no interest here whatever.

Three cans tomatoes at New Commissary for 20 cents.

Vacuum Oil Blacking for shoes and harness at Moore & McGuire.

Judge Murray will return to Dahlonega between the 5th and 10th of next month.

Carry your beef cattle and sheep to L. W. Cochran and get a good price for the same.

Mrs. S. W. Copeland, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Copeland and Romayne Copeland returned to Nelson, Ga., last Sunday.

The weather has been unusually cool during most of the week requiring two or three quilts to keep a person comfortable at night.

Mr. Warren Hendricks, one of Union county's most prosperous farmers, was in Dahlonega some days ago. Mr. Hendrix is worth about two thousand dollars and made it by hard licks. He never wore a store coat or store pair of pants in his life, but wears clothing manufactured by the "folks at home." Instead of furnishing his little boys with a bicycle and tanned pair of shoes, he gives them a long pair of home made pants, suspenders knitt by his girls, tenders them a hoe and puts them in the corn field bare-footed, with instructions to cut the weeds so as to let the corn grow, is why he prospers.

Last Sunday Marion Ducke started to carry Miss Tamy Lackey home from church but when they got to the creek and went to cross on a foot log, the young lady in listening to the loving words of her partner, became unbalanced and toppled over into the stream below. The young lad crossed over but made no effort to get his girl out, and stood on the bank and watched her until she waded to the edge and crawled out, then he returned to his home and the young lady had to make the balance of the way home with her father. Neither one ever had a sweetheart before explains their strange actions.

A couple of Sundays ago the people in the vicinity of Porter Springs witnessed a sight that was never read of before. They saw Aaron Hutson and his sweetheart coming down the road from Yahoola church each riding a horse side by side, the heads of the animals being tied together with switch bark so as to keep them close together while the two lovers were locked arm and arm riding along in the direction of the lady's home looking as happy as a couple of sunflowers that nod and bend in the breeze. The next Sunday he led her by the hand to Damascus church.

The conduct of two white girls last Sunday night at the colored Baptist church was very disgraceful. The Mayor should empower Billy Riley to run them off at the end of a cow hide if they ever behave in such a manner about the church any more. When white girls loose all respect for themselves and go to a negro meeting to hunt up sweethearts after night such punishment would not be too severe. This is about all the way such persons can be punished for their bad behavior for the male persons that associate with them loose all knowledge of anything that occurs in the past when they reach the grand jury room.

Alfred Herington, col., one of the best tillers of the soil in Lumpkin county has been supplying several of our citizens with strawberries grown at Porter Springs, for the past few days. They are nice but not as fine as some we have seen brought from the Queen of the Mountains. We have seen them so large that a big mouth had would feel embarrassed in trying to eat them in the presence of his sweetheart unless he quartered them. As we have before remarked this colored man is an excellent farmer. We heard a gentleman remark last Saturday that Alfred gave him an idea about farming, while in conversation Saturday, that was worth ten dollars to him this year.

Job lot of Swiss Embroidery at H. D. Gurleys—8 to 12 1-2 cents per yard.

A fine lot of No. 3 pie peaches at Joe at Moore & McGuire. Also fancy and stick candy.

While Albert Wheelchel was carrying a heavy iron pipe Wednesday it slipped, cutting a gash inch and a half long on one side of his head.

The Comptroller General has notified ex-tax collector Walker's bondsmen that he will give them a reasonable length of time to make his shortage good.

The boys moved everything they could find to the square Wednesday night except a lot of mud that was dumped out on the side walk in front of B. R. Meaders.

Rev. M. D. Hutson, of Gainesville, Ga., will preach in the grove near the Brick Yard, in Dahlonega next Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock, provided the weather will permit.

Newberry, who was caught in an illicit distillery last week was released last Saturday. His faithful wife didn't stop day nor night until she succeeded in getting a bond made.

Dr. Howard has two Japan chestnut trees in bloom, three years old. There are also three pecan trees in town in bloom, being the first of the kind that ever bloomed in Dahlonega.

In our mention of the town schools last week we didn't know that Miss Amanda Cain's school had ended for the season. The same can be said of Miss Amanda as the other teachers, she is not behind in her profession, always has a large school and never fails to give satisfaction.

Mr. J. W. Stewart and his friend Mr. Sigal, of Cleveland, Ohio, have been in our city for several days looking after the Keystone property in which they are interested. Mr. Stewart used to reside in Dahlonega and our citizens are always glad to have him with us, and of course any of his friends are most heartily welcomed.

There is not likely to be a change in the U. S. Deputy Marshalship at Dahlonega if Mr. Harbison desires to be retained. An official who is in a position to know informed us last week that he knew what he was talking about and Harbison could get the place if he wanted it. Jim is a good officer and all are satisfied with him except those seeking the office and a few of their special friends. And of course all the blockaders are opposed to him being retained for they know if he holds the position they will have to hide low.

Laura Henson was bound over to Lumpkin Superior Court last Wednesday by Squire Worley for killing old "Uncle" Jimmie Grizzle's hog for destroying her corn. She was placed in jail with the understanding that she would be required to give a $50 bond or be permitted to pay $2 for the hog and $5.10 cost. When arrested by the sheriff she was waylaying the road for Lark Helton, the only witness against her, armed with a well loaded pistol. Charlie Boll paid the money yesterday and the woman was given her freedom.

While Miss Lila and Amanda Cain's scholars were pining last Saturday, a young man and his girl, who attended, decided that they would take a stroll before dinner and see the bees gather honey from the wild flowers in the forest. While off listening to the beautiful songs of the birds and occasionally letting a love word slip from their lips, the moments passed swiftly by and when the couple returned dinner was over and the dishes all packed away in the baskets and the picnicers ready to return to their homes. If this couple could have controlled the sun while engaged in their lonely conversation it would have been standing still and that picnic dinner would have not been over yet.

SORGHUM AS A FORAGE CROP

Preparation, Time of Planting, Fertilizing, Etc.

NOT INJURIOUS TO THE LAND

It is a Growth Much Better Than Corn. How to Destroy Weeds—Value of Salt and Lime as Fertilizers—A Plan to Save For Yields May—Many Other Inquiries Answered.

QUESTION.—I see that you advise planting sorghum as a forage crop. Will you please advise me as to preparation for time of planting, fertilizing, feeding etc? I have raised this crop for syrup, but not for forage; indeed, have always been told that it was dangerous as a stock food.

ANSWER.—The variety of sorghum to be chosen for a forage crop differs from the syrup making varieties, in that it should be hardy, quick growing and maturing, with abundant seed of soft quality and free from straggling. For this purpose the Amber varieties are extensively used as the south as well as the north and west, but many southern farmers prefer the Orange varieties. These are rather later than the Amber, and are of coarser growth. As a general rule the same preparation should be given to the land as that required for a crop of corn or cotton. If the land is rough or cloddy it should be smoothed with a harrow and leveled as for corn. The seed should be sown much thicker when the crop is intended for forage than when syrup is the object. If planted in drills it should be given about the same cultivation as corn, cultivating shallow and often. The time of planting should be decided by the season, any time from the middle of April to the middle of May, after the ground is well warmed. The plants grow slowly above ground at first, but the root growth is rapid, and as soon as these are well established the stems begin to develop very rapidly, and owing to their abundant and long roots the plants resist drought more successfully than corn. The cutting may begin as soon as the heads begin to form, but the best time is when the seeds are half ripe. After the first cutting, if the field is again cultivated, a second, a third and even a fourth cutting may, under favorable conditions, be obtained. Often peas, beans, corn or millet is sown with the sorghum broadcast, and the field may be pastured, or the corn cut for hay. The practice of sowing legumes as peas, beans, etc., with the sorghum is a most excellent one because the legumes furnish the muscle making materials, while the sorghum is rich in fat-forming substances, and the two combined make a more perfect feed. Another advantage is that, although the sorghum draws very little upon the nitrogen of the soil, the peas will replace whatever of this element is taken off. This would indicate that a fertilizer running very low in nitrogen, with a full per cent of potash and phosphoric acid, should be selected for this crop.—State Agricultural Department.

Sorghum in Severe Drouth—Does It Injure Land?

QUESTION.—Does sorghum resist drought more surely than corn or other forage crops, and is it as injurious to the land as millet?

ANSWER.—Both the saccharine and nonsaccharine varieties of sorghum resist drought much better than corn. This has been proven in those sections of the south and west where severe drouths sometimes occur. The sorghum has been found to remain fresh and green, when the corn was almost ruined. Dry weather may somewhat check its growth, but when the supply of moisture is renewed it will recover and grow as luxuriantly as ever. This is perhaps owing to its deep feeding roots, which, unlike corn, extend far below the surface. Owing to this peculiarity it is also less exhaustive on the soil than millet and many other crops, which draw their elements of growth from the upper soil. It is also a small consumer of nitrogen. When planted late, or sown with cowpeas, if it is cut before the seeds ripen and the field plowed as soon as the crop is taken off, the land is left in splendid condition for succeeding crops. Where the canes are large and coarse, as is the case when the crop is planted for syrup, it is important that this plowing be deeply and thoroughly done as soon as the crop is harvested, otherwise the stubble might interfere with working other crops. If the canes are sown thickly in drills or broadcast for harvesting or pasturing, little trouble in this respect is experienced. In all cases it is best, however, to plow the land as soon as the crop is gathered. Experienced farmers know that cotton, small grains and potatoes do well after sorghum.—State Agricultural Department.
